A Time for Every Purpose

Take time for work
It is the price of success.

Take time to think
It is the source of power.

Take time to play
It is the secret of youth.

Take time to read
It is the foundation of wisdom.

Take time to be friendly
It is the road of happiness.

Take time to dream
It is hitching your wagon to a star.

Take time to love and be loved
It is the privilege of the gods.

Take time to look around
It is too short a day to be selfish.

Take time to laugh
It is the music of the soul.

An Irish Prayer

September

Warm September days make walking between classes more bearable for everyone.

Chris Fair, Bonnie Bowie, and Diane Houchen sort stacks of annuals before student rush begins.

Registering girls are a good market for Key Club stickers as Warren Carpenter and Ronnie Smith try their luck.

The beginning of school means hard work for Blue Devil Marching Band.

October

Sophomores Anita Neal, Janet Neidner, and Danny Pope listen intently to class discussion.

Janet Nance and Betty Riggs reserve annuals early.

SEPTEMBER - OCTOBER

Remembering warm golden days when annuals were distributed ... Meeting new and old friends again ... Marching miles for band practice before the first football game ... sighing in remembrance of last year and hoping for the future ... strolling from one class to another ... and finally settling down for the year.

Marching in the Homecoming parade ... rushing to finish last minute decorations ... crowning a radiant queen ... studying diligently for the first six weeks tests ... preserving memories by reserving annuals ... announcing Cotton Boll royalty ... building enthusiasm for football ... and gathering friends for chit-chats.

Members of JCL stab Newport Greyhound on their colorful homecoming float.

Student coach Nooner and Coach Sims encourage Devils on to victory.

November

Sandy Henry, Debbie Henry, Mike Callender, and Tim Schoettle support individual candidates in mock elections in American History.

John Nesbitt, Forrest City Student Council president, and Ronnie Smith hold Cotton Bale Trophy.

Bonnie Bowie, Belinda Boyles, and Tim Schoettle serve Forrest City guests after their assembly.

Janet Nance and Anne Hostetler help prepare JCL Thanksgiving basket.

December

Benny Gardner, Mike Crosthwait, Nancy Todd, Members of Family Living Class, stack food, clothes, and toys for Christmas surprise to needy family.

Mr. Frank Washburn leads pep band during Christmas assembly.

Speech Club presents Christmas story about our teachers.

NOVEMBER - DECEMBER

Enjoying a brief break from school during teachers' meetings ... Hosting the Forrest City assembly ... stoking up spirit at the traditional bonfire ... relishing the victory over Forrest City and the winning of the Cotton Bale trophy ... distributing Thanksgiving baskets to needy families ... and ending November with Thanksgiving vacation.

Starting December by receiving our second report cards ... making Christmas decorations in home economics and interior decoration classes ... listening to familiar carols on the intercom ... presenting an assembly of solitude, music, and laughter ... and finally getting out for a two weeks vacation.

Familiar scene is Mark Scott going up to make baskets.

Mike Ford is happy over finishing last exam.

February

Pep Club members Vicki Walker, Carla Phillips, and Pam King are busy making decorations for Spirit Week.

Reefie Van Cleave, Jean Ellen Earney, and Vicki Eaves wait for Spirit Week program to begin.

Betty Vernon and Richard Snyder read parts to try out for Senior Play.

JANUARY - FEBRUARY

Coming back from Christmas vacation ... studying for and taking semester exams ... attending Basketball games ... wishing for snow ... breathing sigh of relief after finishing tests ... taking home semester grades.

Planning full schedule of excitement for Spirit Week ... laughing at Laugh-In assembly ... announcing basketball sweetheart candidates ... winning attendance trophy by seniors ... crowning sweetheart queen on Valentine Day ... nervously trying out for senior play ... and finally waiting for announcement of play cast.

March

Warren Carpenter and Jim Moore discuss their results of the Airman Qualifying examination with an Air Force Lieutenant.

Cindy Smith looks on as Diane Towery practices for cheerleading tryouts.

John Perrine as Mr. Cunningham, portrays the perfect fisherman in the Cotton Boll Assembly.

Betty Vernon and Richard Snyder exchange a kiss during a scene of "The Night Is My Enemy."

A look of surprise is seen on Marilyn Whitfield's face as she drifts out of the annual.

MARCH - APRIL

Nominating student council candidates ... reading campaign posters ... listening to rousing speeches ... taking the Airman Qualifying Examination test ... practicing for cheerleader tryouts ... and producing the senior play.

Counting the days until graduation night ... running track ... playing golf and tennis ... sighing a breath of relief after the final performance of "The Night Is My Enemy" ... laughing at humorous incidents as presented by Cotton Boll staff ... waiting anxiously for the announcement of the Cotton Boll Queen ... and finally, cheering excitedly as Marilyn was crowned.

Happiness follows presentation of DAR award by Mrs. Gilbert Jay to Elizabeth McElroy.

Mrs. Dallas awards Melodie McCutchen for library service.

Ginger Waddell and Virginia Brock add finishing touches to awards day decorations.

Juniors and seniors enjoy dancing to the music of the "Chasers."

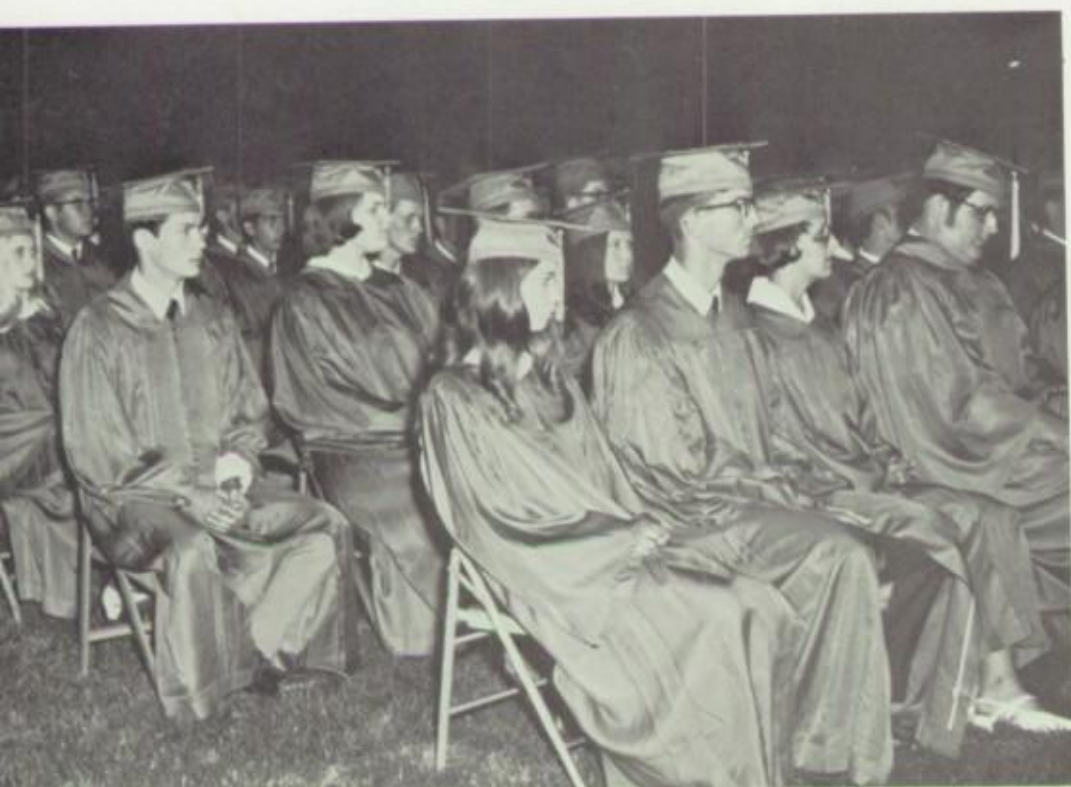

Honor graduates wait to begin program.

Senior girls relax before lining up for Baccalaureate exercises.

Seniors listen intently to challenging speeches of honor graduates.

Seniors line up to receive their diplomas.

Leslie Williams receives diploma from Mr. H. E. Weaver, president of school board.

Seniors bow heads for invocation.

A time to Laugh . . .

Dennis Dearen and Fred Morgan take time to laugh over grades. - Why, we do not know!

Jack Mask dresses as Devil to entertain assemblies and football games.

Johnny McCaa confronts "horse" during Spirit Week assembly.

Pep Club officers are unusual cheerleaders during football pep rally.

To Love and Be Loved . . .

Mrs. Odalene Coley

Juniors Teresa Graves and Jan Lanford concentrate on sentence variety and organization while writing a theme.

Brenda Ledbetter, Joanne Arnold, Donna Faye Friend, Ginger DeVazier, and Joanne Danzy work on research for senior themes.

Gary Westmoreland admires portrait of Mark Twain done by fellow student.

Miss Jane Keasler

Mrs. Fran Sullivan

English:

English Classes Stress Interpretation

WMHS' English department provided a well-developed curriculum of grammar, composition, and literature for its students.

Sophomores began a general study of all types of literature. Through the making of Julius Caesar notebooks, the memorizing of quotes from Julius Caesar, and studying a unit on Silas Marner, students developed some literary appreciation.

Dealing primarily with American Literature juniors were introduced to such writers as Ralph Waldo Emerson, Henry David Thoreau, Walt Whitman, and Mark Twain. By searching for hidden meanings within short stories as well as poetry, students learned to analyze literature. The majority of juniors were required to make projects.

During the first semester of their senior year, students concentrated on English literature. A review of English grammar and composition rules were next. Senior themes came as the culmination of the students' last year. After many long hours spent in research, note-taking, outlining, revision, and writing themes, honor students used their compositions as bases for graduation speeches.

Miss Diane Freeman obviously approves of Kay Rains' Julius Caesar notebook.

Journalism:

Journalism Class Offers Basic Writing Experience

As they learned new writing techniques, the members of journalism classes put this knowledge together and came up with the publication of the school paper, the "Blue Devil."

Besides spending long hours of arranging copy, planning layout, writing and rewriting articles the students also had to be on the alert around campus for any news they might gather.

Thus, the staff of the "Blue Devil" not only gained practical experience in writing and editing but gave the student body a paper filled with school news and feature articles about life at West Memphis High School.

With the watchful assistance of Fred Morgan and Steve Barham, John Perrine types up journalism articles.

Staff members Larry Himes, Elizabeth McElroy, Pam Jones, Virginia Brock, Cindy Garrison, Mary Francis King, Diane Hollis, and Dolly Ross check last minute articles for Blue Devil paper.

Debbie delivers one of her required speeches.

Speech:

Speech Class Promotes Self-expression

As students studied principles of public speaking, debating, and play production, they were given a background to prepare themselves for the ever increasing demands for correct and effective speaking.

Students were given chances to practice their skill at writing as well as delivering their own speeches in such local and county-wide competition as the V. F. W. Voice of Democracy and American Legion contests.

From this group came most of the characters in the senior play.

Mrs. Sharon Young

Speech students, Marilyn Whitfield, Peggy Holmes, Mary Carol Self, Elizabeth McElroy, Jean Seaton, and Patsy Rowland present skit, "Valley of the Dolls."

Languages:

Students Broaden Their Knowledge of Other Countries

WMHS offered two foreign languages, French and Latin, both of which attracted our best students, particularly those who were college bound.

Latin again proved to be a popular subject with its big class in Latin I, which attracted many senior students this year, and three classes in Latin II. Latin projects and scrapbooks on "Latin Lives Today" were the products of much research and became the source of pride to the students. Throughout the year students knew that their knowledge of Latin would be tested at the Mid-South Latin tournament at Memphis State University in April.

In the French department the aural-oral approach was stressed, particularly in French I and II. Our modern laboratory helped students to improve their pronunciation. Constant drilling gave the students an understanding of grammatical structures. French III students were introduced to French Literature. In all three levels students enjoyed learning about French civilization and culture.

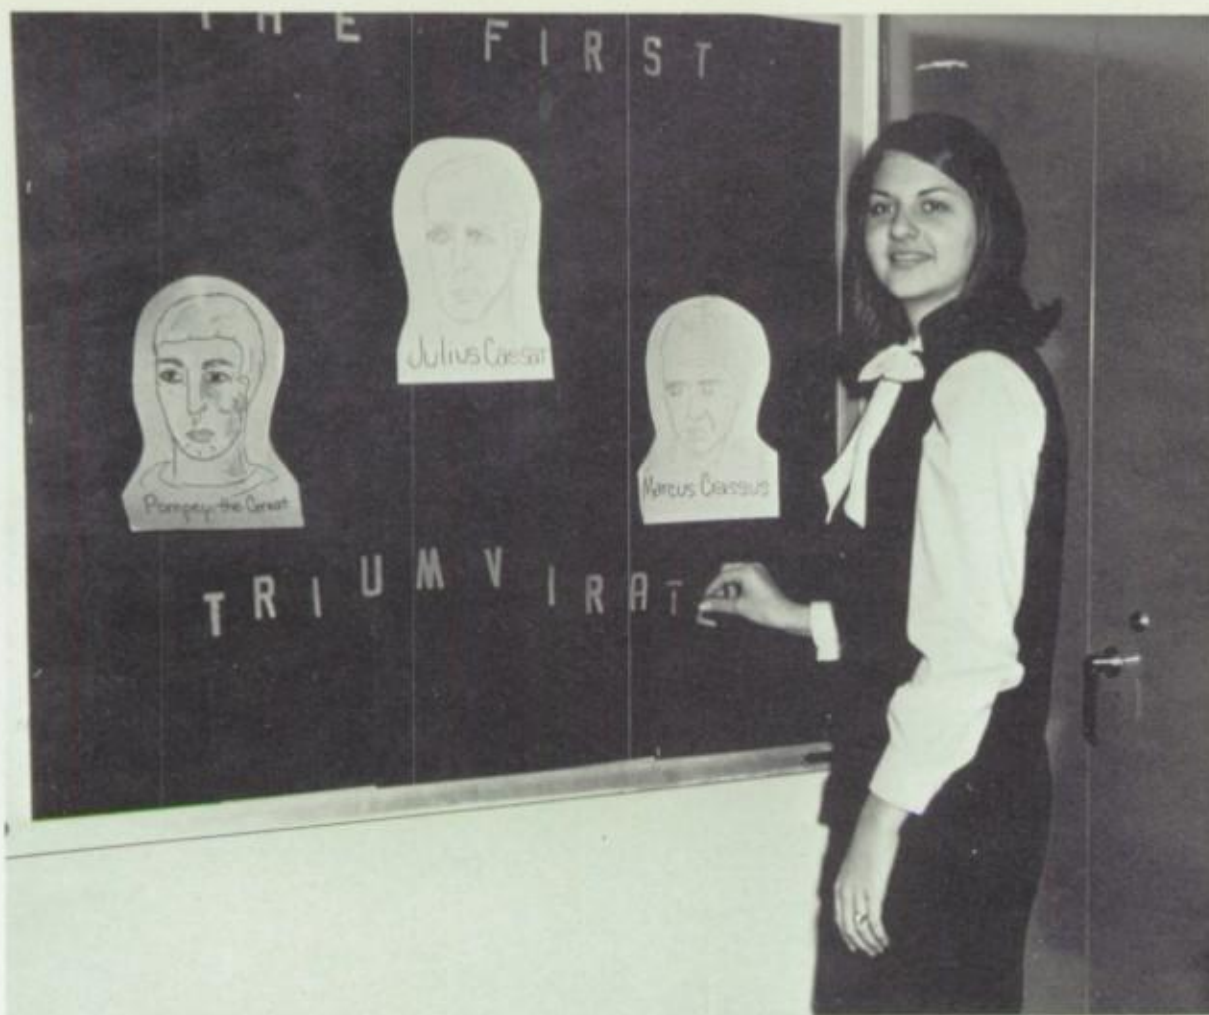

Listening attentively, French I students, Sara Lynn Jackson and Donna Coleman, improve their French pronunciation.

Barry Hostetler, Jeff Tate, and Denise Eisler make preparations for French banquet.

Anita Neal adds final touches to Latin bulletin board.

Mrs. Paul Neal

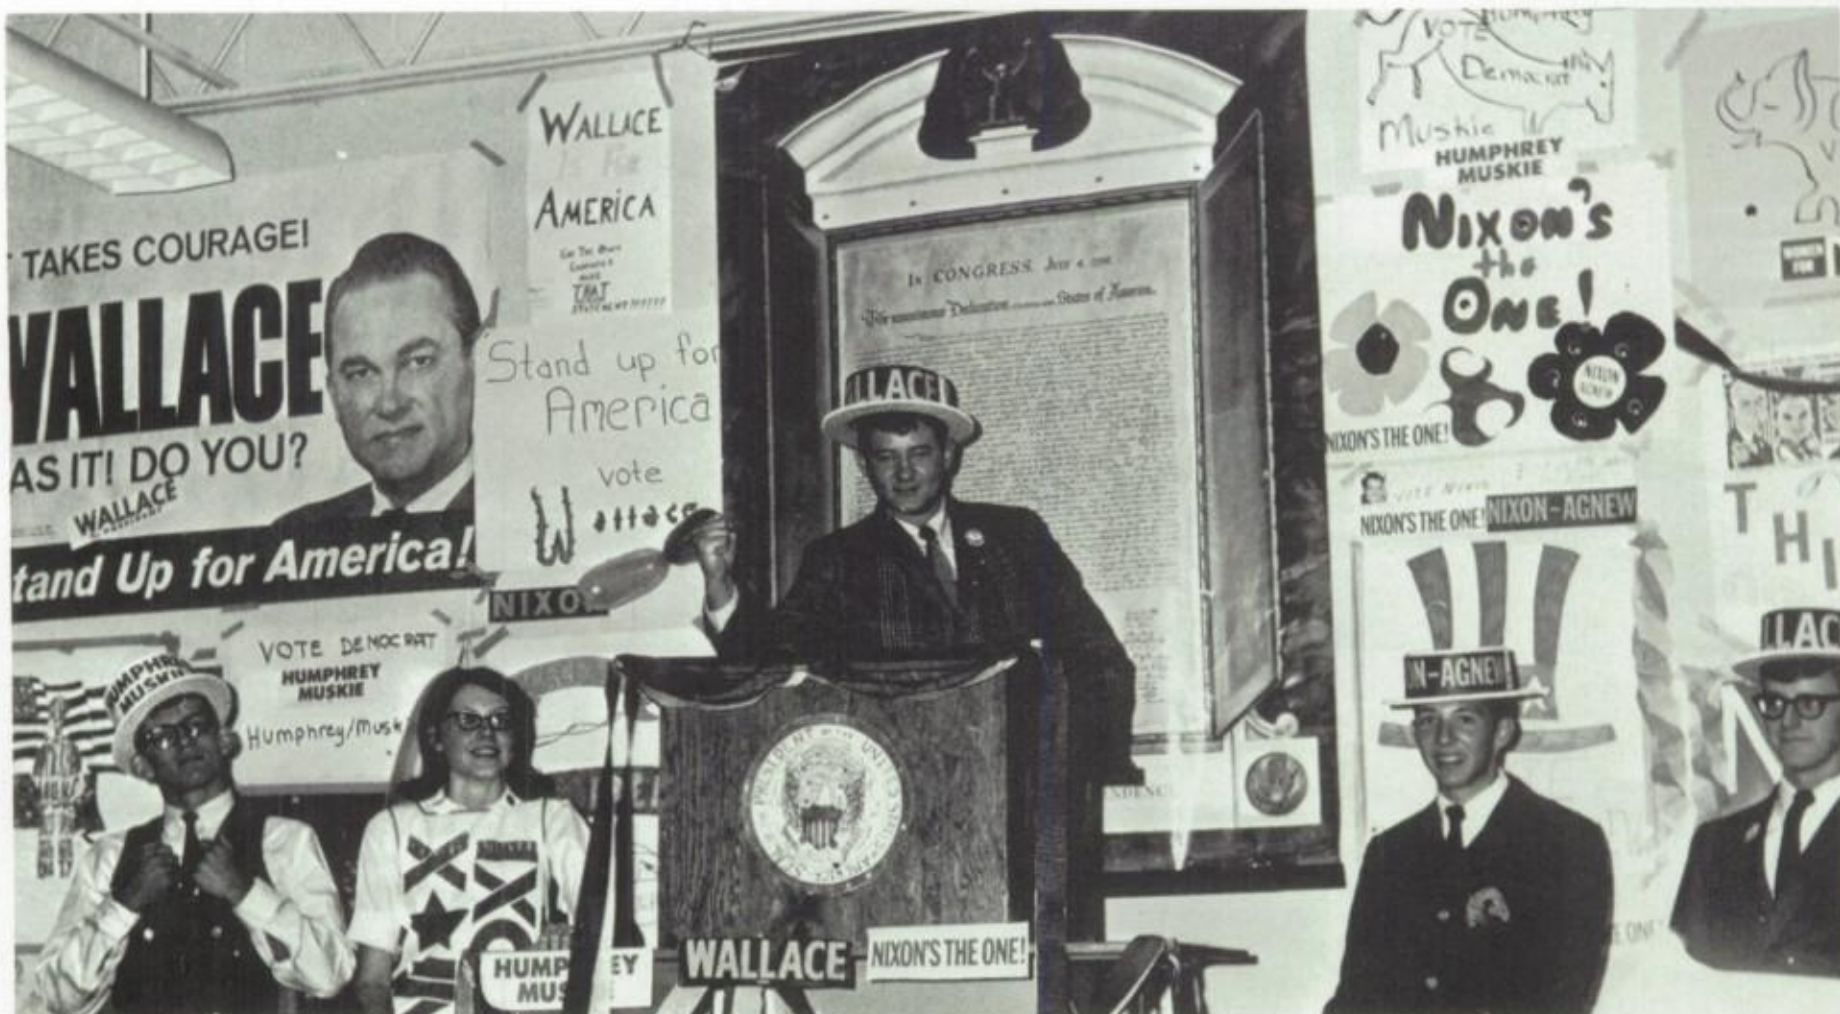

Mrs. J. E. Sims

Janet Neidner, Janet Nance, Mark Maxwell, Gene Guin, Debby Henry, Debbie Steele, Patti Smith and Shirley Mann wait for homecoming parade to begin.

Giving their campaign platform for their party choices are Sandy Henry, Debbie Henry, Mike Callendar, Tim Schottle and Jimmy Van Horn.

Mrs. Linda Campbell

Mr. Ira Croft

Miss Lou Ellen Kelly

Joe Davis, Danny Thompson, and Nancy Cole prepare group reports in American history class.

American and World History:

Students Study Past to Fulfill Future Needs

The strength of a democratic nation lies behind its people - a well-informed society that knows the operations of its government. West Memphis High School gave its students some knowledge of the origin of our government as a preparation for their future roles as citizens.

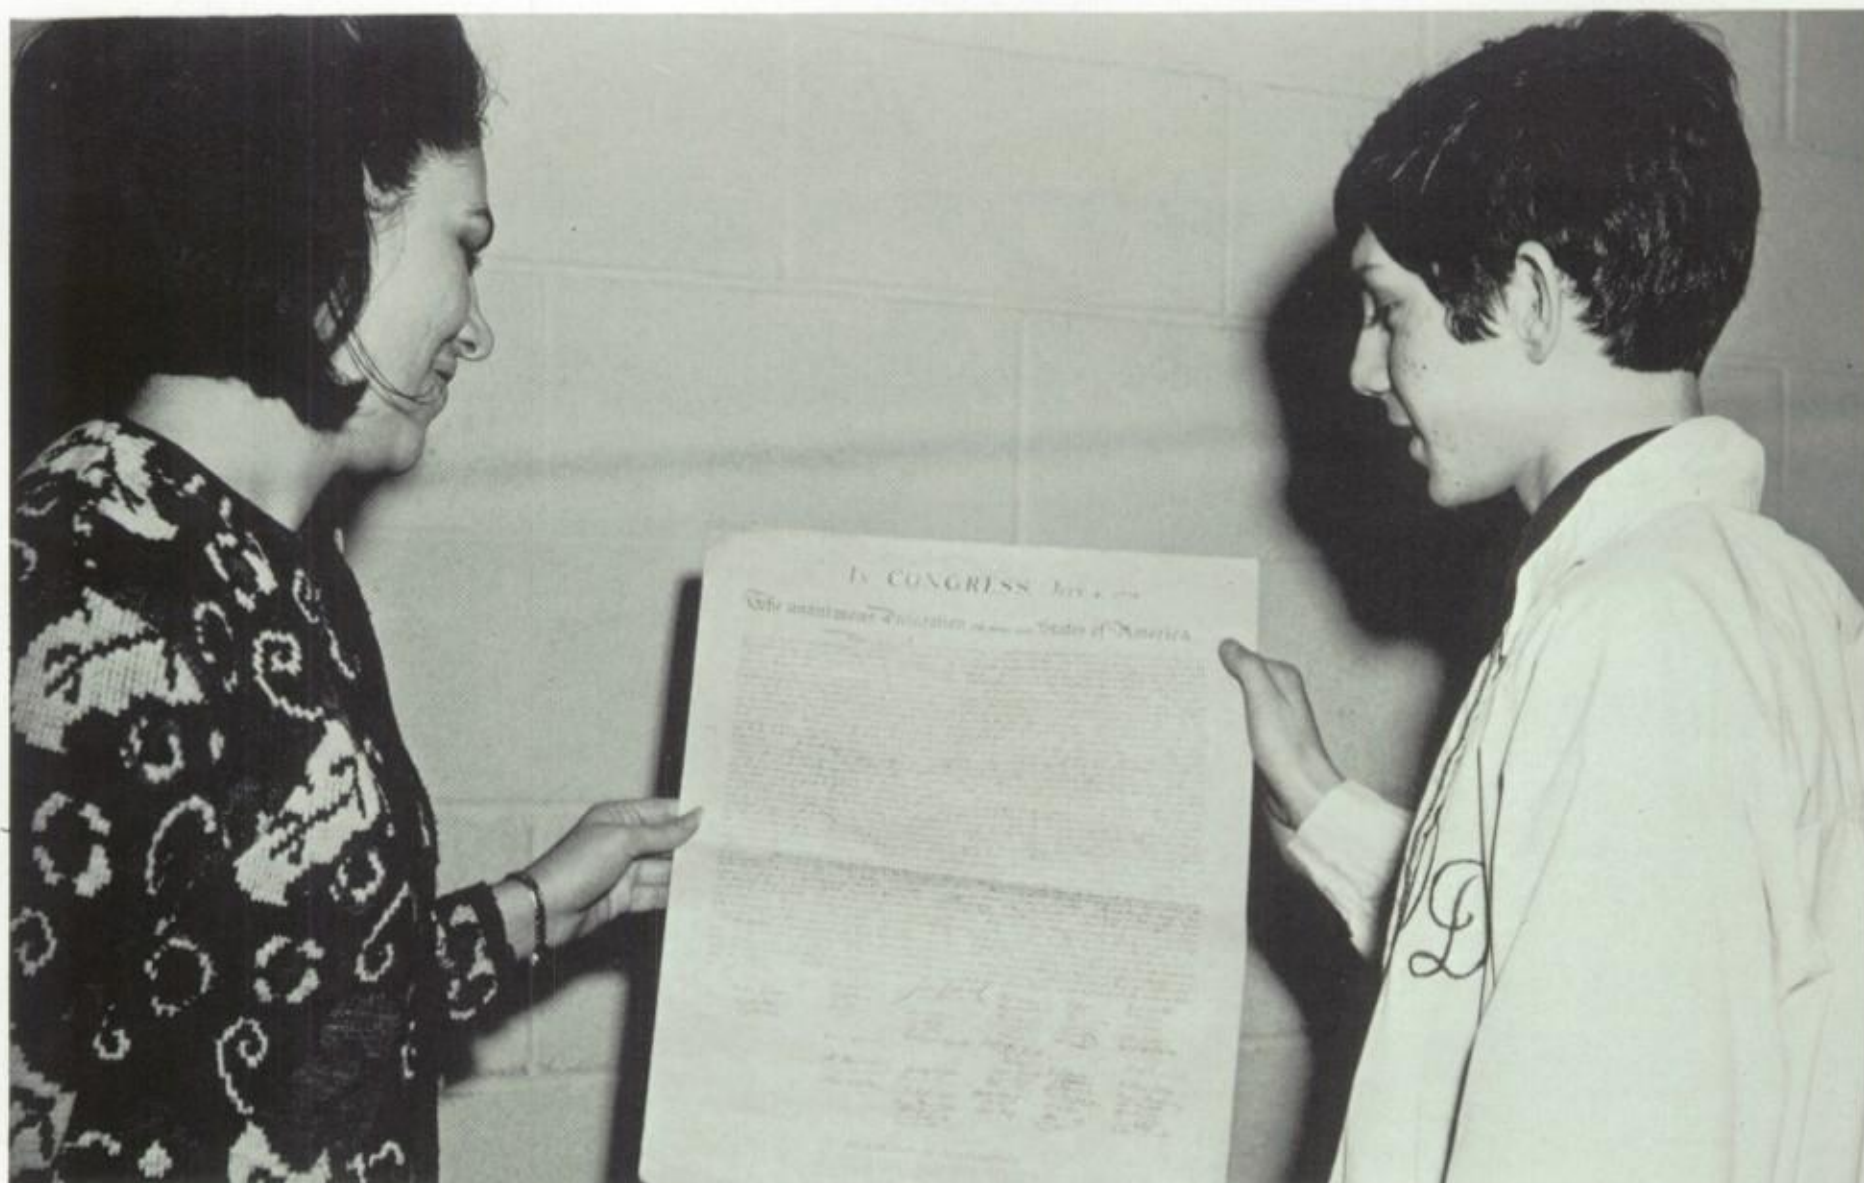

In American history classes, students studied the origin of our nation through Civil War projects, presidential notebooks and daily lectures. Students in world history classes learned the development, customs, and cultures of foreign countries through maps, charts, and text books.

American history student, Connie Lynn displays decoupages done as American history project.

Debbie Rohm and Terry McFarland admire project made by Mrs. Campbell's American history classes.

In government class, Miss Kelley and Miche Dortch look over copy of the Declaration of Independence.

Gov't and Geography:

Social Studies Teaches Respect for Other Governments

As government students became more familiar with the functions upon which our country operates, they were given a background toward becoming tomorrow's citizens.

Those who were interested in statistical facts about other countries and their locations were usually found enrolled in geography classes.

Billy Merchant studies a map of Europe in geography class.

Choral Music:

Choir Stages Concerts

Mr. Frank Washburn, sponsor of the choral music department, gave his students a chance to study and enjoy vocal music. They learned to read notes, to interpret expression markings, and listen to the beat of music.

During Christmas, they presented a concert for the student body.

The choir entered a district choral music festival at Jonesboro in the spring.

Vicki Smith, accompanist for choral music group practices before Christmas concert.

Jeff Morris, Ginger Waddell, Ronnie Mullen, and Allie Tilley prepare to produce hydrogen.

Jim Moore, Mike Roberts, and Chuck McCreery blow bubbles to show elasticity of Material in Physics.

Debbie Northcut experiments in biology by growing beans and corn.

Science:

Research Experiments Assist Science Classes

To keep up with the increasing demands in our society, the science department of WMHS offered students advanced courses in the field of science.

With the experiments and projects carried on in the Biology classes, students explored the world of plants, animals, and their composition.

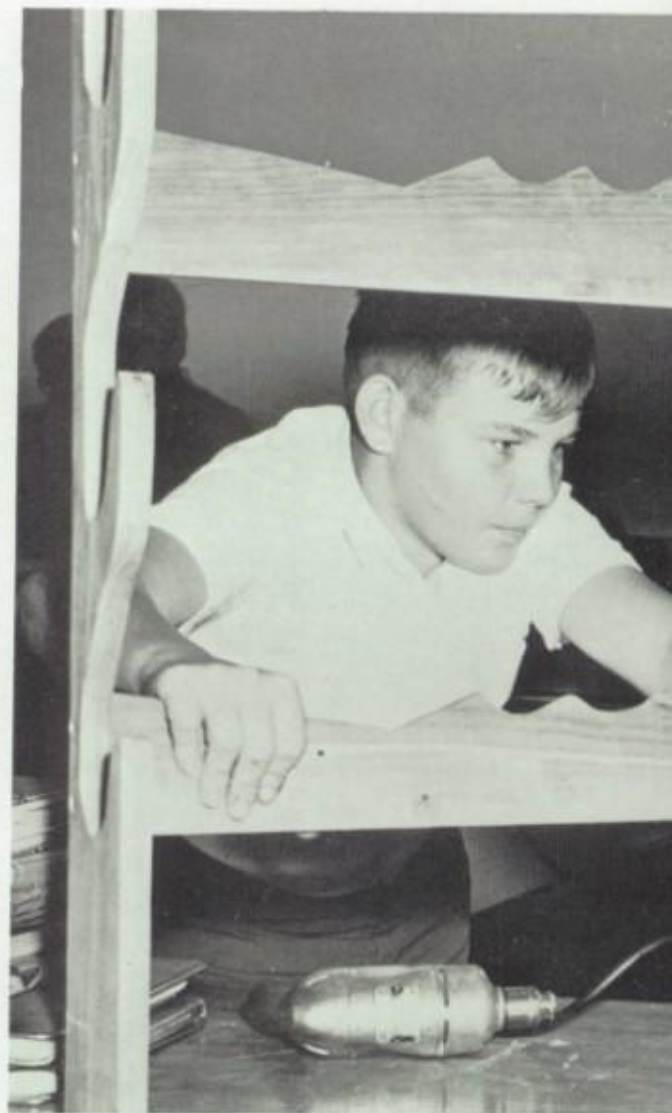

Physiology courses offered a detailed study of the human body. Charts and models of various parts of the body provided the needed background to understand the complicated structure of the human being.

After learning symbols for chemical elements, experimenting with proven principles and testing reactions of one chemical to another, students in Chemistry classes became prepared to be the scientist of tomorrow.

Applying ancient principles and delving into the modern mysteries of force, energy and motion, Physics students moved into a world of theory. The more advanced students took a great interest in the study of Physics.

With WMHS' excellent educational opportunities as a background students prepared to take their places in the advancing scientific world.

In mechanical drawing class, Jacky Mask works on his house plans.

Vocational:

Students Learn Basics of Everyday Living

Even though academic knowledge is stressed during this decade, a person living in the demanding society must rely upon skilled craftsmen to an even greater extent than ever before.

West Memphis Senior High offers vocational opportunities in the field of shop and mechanical drawing. Under the direction of Mr. Lester Ivory shop boys get a basic sketch of the fundamentals by working with woods, welding procedures, experimenting with metal work, and repairing electrical appliances. In mechanical drawing classes, the students receive foundation for courses in architecture. Along with teaching students precision, mechanical drawing also utilized isometric and three-view figures.

Steve Bass shapes a bowl as a project in shop class.

Mr. Calvin Arnold

Kenneth Brown and John Harmon inspect their gun rack made in shop class.

Randy Brantley works with his lamp on the wood lay.

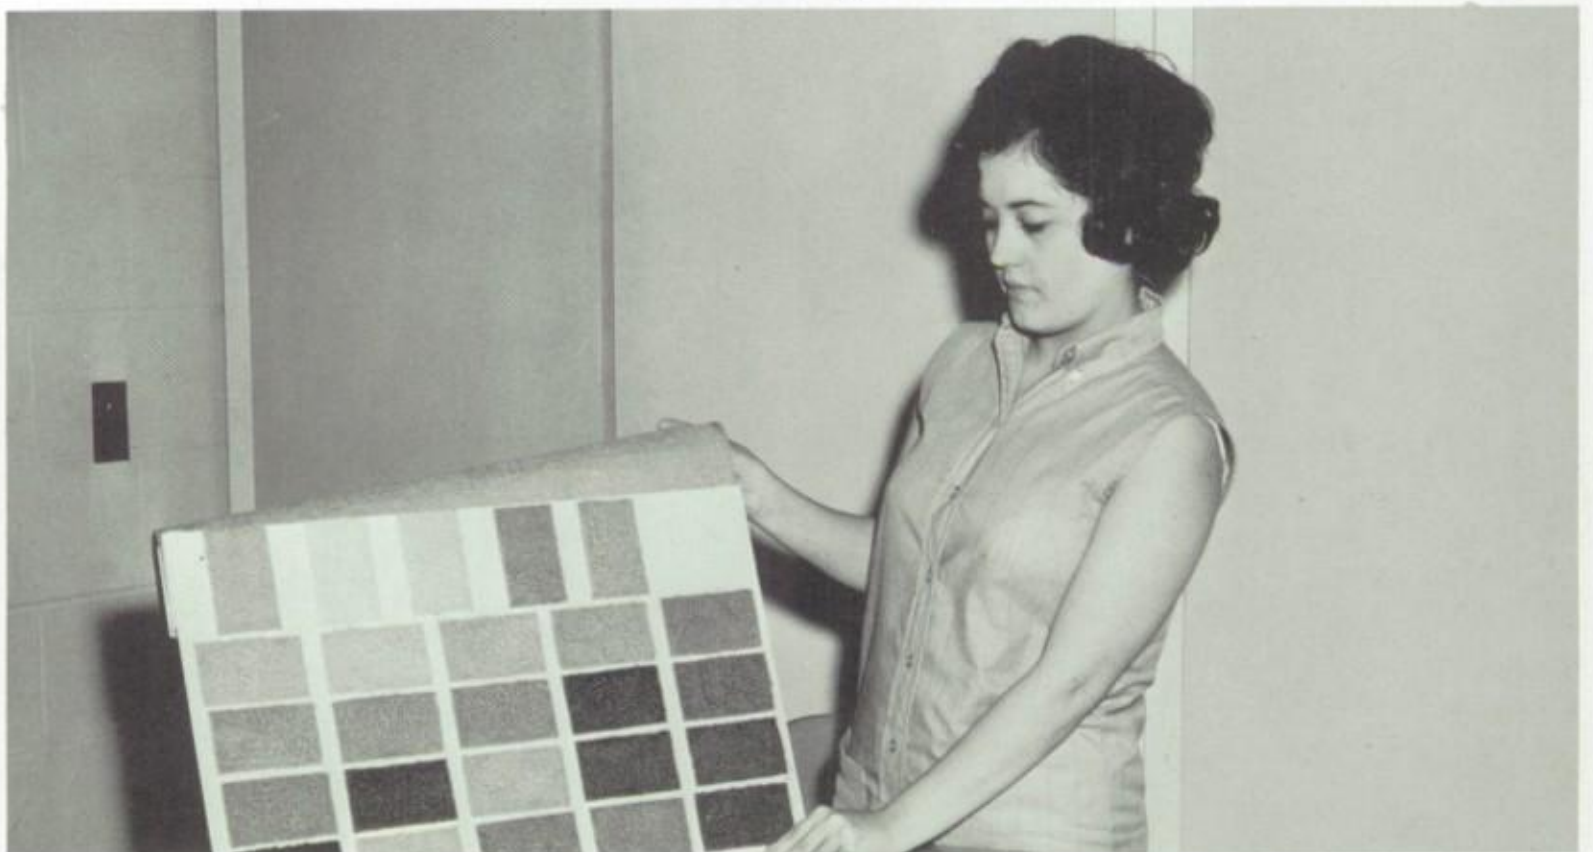

Home-economics students, Margaret Woods and Ann Powers, add final touches to the bulletin board during American Education Week.

Removing sewing basket from the compartments, Debbie Coplan and Maudie Taylor prepare to work on their garments.

Mrs. Martha Bagwell

Sarah Miller displays carpet samples in Interior Decorating class.

Jimmy Fiveash applies final coat of shellac to his decoupage project for family living class.

Bernice Finfrock displays dress she made as project in clothing class.

Home Economics:

Classes Develop Concepts, Skills, and Values That Contribute to Homemaking

WMHS' home economics department gave each student an experience in every field of homemaking from human development and budgets to interior decorating, cooking, and sewing.

In the interior decorating class, which was offered during the first semester, students studied color harmony, furniture designs, and periods. Psychological, social, and physical aspects of housing and how they effect the occupant were also studied.

As a second semester subject, clothing was offered. The girls began their first project according to the knowledge they had previously gained in sewing. After the completion of many garments, the girls made a final project which they modeled in the spring fashion show.

Family living class covered many of the same aspects of the home as did the interior decorating classes. Projects made included decoupages, paper maches, centerpieces, and pearlized flowers.

Commercial:

Commercial Classes Train Business-Minded Students

With their eyes on the future, commercial students worked to achieve proficiency in office skills.

Typewriting I students in either Mrs. Washburn's or Mrs. Clayton's classes soon become efficient typists. As in almost any two year course, fundamentals were stressed during Typewriting I, while in Typewriting II accuracy and speed were the sought-after goals.

Learning how to balance long columns of figures swiftly and accurately, Mrs. Wyatt's bookkeeping students prepared themselves to spot possible mistakes in their work.

By putting to use the many symbols which Shorthand I students learned, they soon began taking dictation. Their speed and efficiency was increased in Shorthand II.

Students in Secretarial Practice classes became quite familiar with the every day problems to be faced by combining shorthand, typing and bookkeeping. Besides becoming more proficient in these skills, they were given a first-hand look at the responsibility of being secretaries.

During Bookkeeping Debbie Pattey attempts to balance columns of figures.

Dale Hamm and Linda Rodman explain brief form and derivatives to Debbie Miller in Shorthand I.

Mrs. Washburn times her Typewriting I students on a one minute writing.

Mary Peppers works with adding machine in Secretarial Practice class.

Mrs. Sue Clayton

Mrs. Lyda Washburn

Miss June Wyatt

P.E.:

New Trampoline Sparks Interest

Keyed to the health, vitality, and physical fitness of the individual student, the physical education department emphasized different sports throughout the year.

Excitement and enthusiasm climbed to the highest point with the participation of students on the newly purchased trampoline.

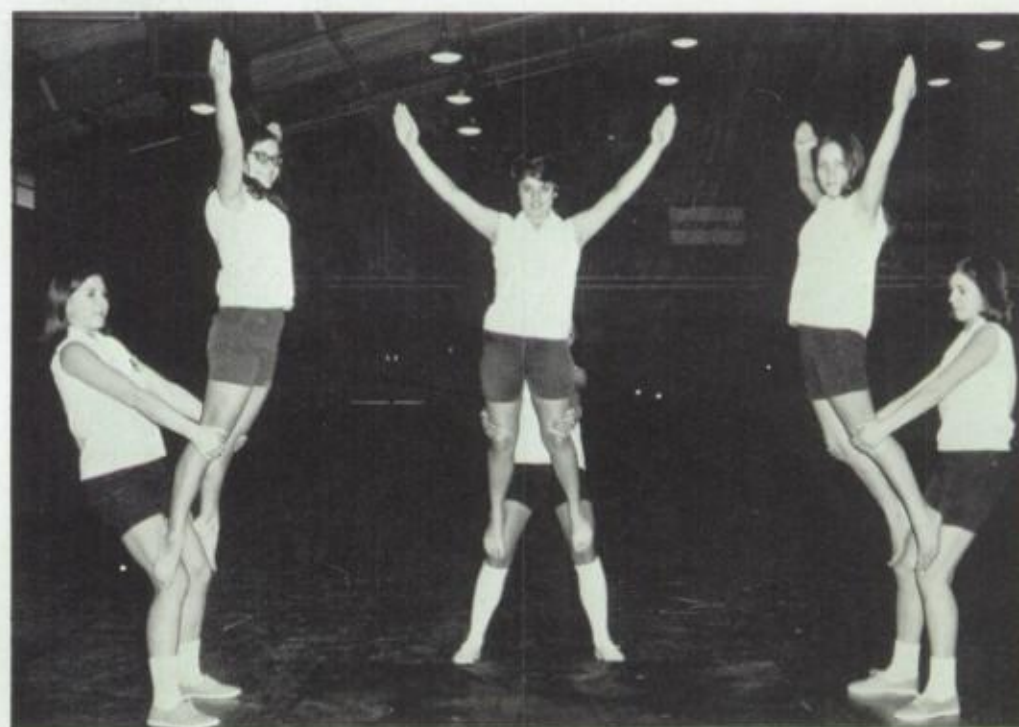

Besides learning trampoline techniques, classes participated in volleyball, tumbling, basketball, and other sports. Volleyball and basketball intramurals provided an important opportunity for students to test their skills and prove their physical fitness.

Mrs. Hemphill tries her skill on the new trampoline.

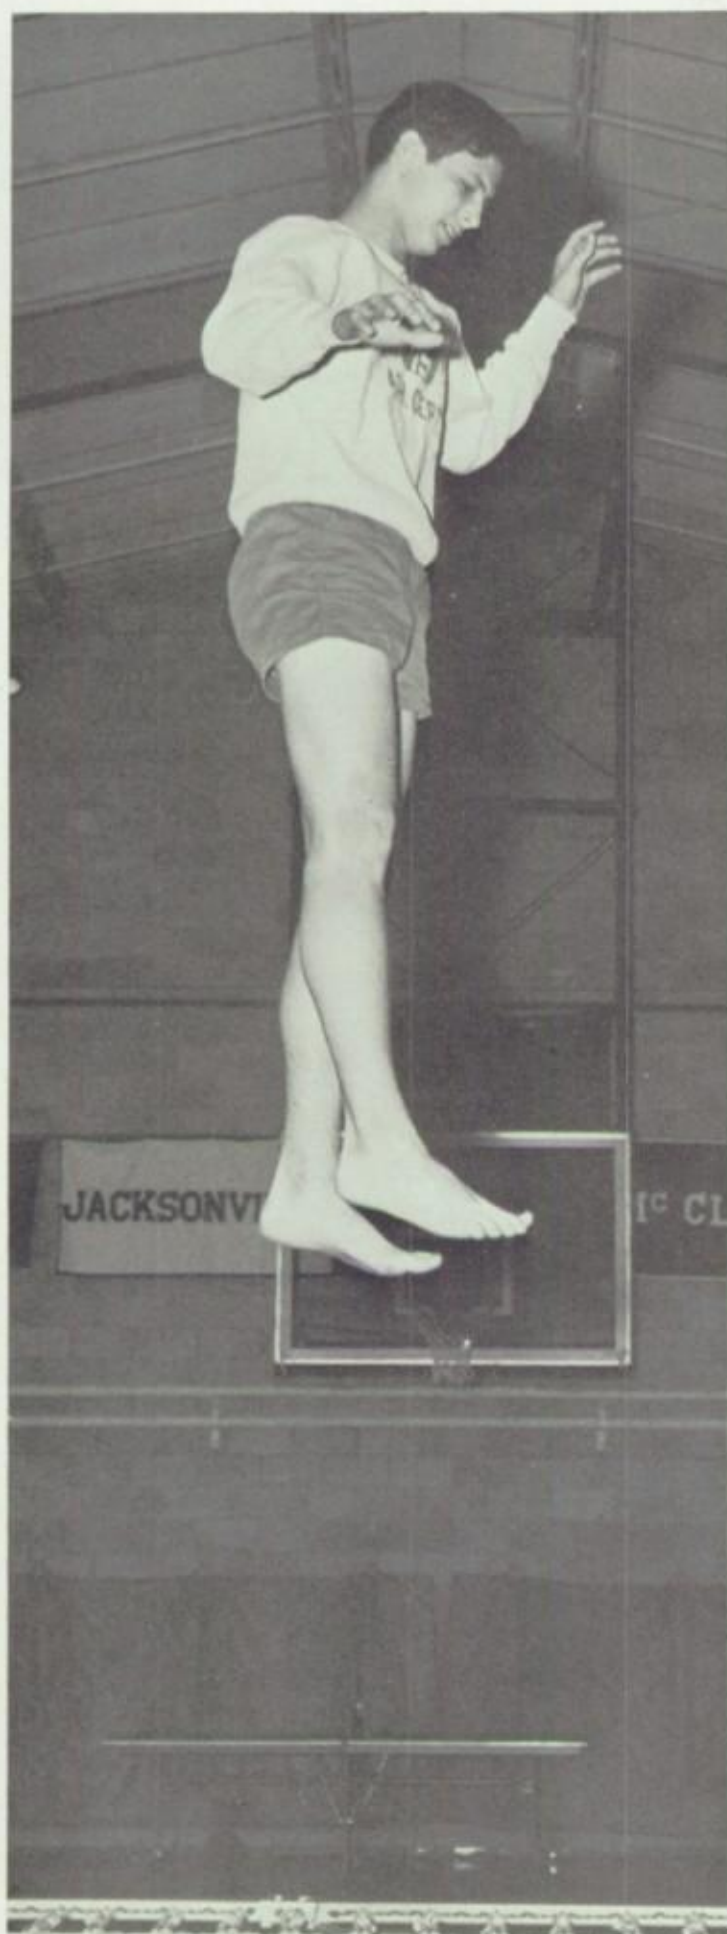

Hazel Huff, Reba Walton, and Donna Zimmerman fight for possession of jump ball.

Beth Ward, Linda Wiedeman, Linda Melton, Patty Williams, and Johnnie Voyles display talents of balancing.

Jim Morley gains spring in preparing to turn a backwards flip.

Demonstrating his skill on the trampoline, Jim Morley completes his turn.

WMHS Band Wins Acclaim

As soon as an exciting marching season had ended for the WMHS Blue Devil Band and some had recuperated from tiring practices at Sightreading Clinic in Marianna, they began concentrated rehearsals to prepare for a Christmas Concert on December 19.

The series of tryouts and concerts including Senior Clinic Tryouts, a weekend at ASU, and state-wide tryouts in Little Rock brought honors to many band members, especially those seven selected to be in the All-State Bands.

During the following few weeks, the entire group worked feverishly to prepare three numbers for the pre-festival concert on March 9 and the District Festival on March 15 in Walnut Ridge, where they were handed an "Excellent" concert rating and 124 solo and ensemble medals.

Polishing and refining were the only tasks left before State Festival on April 10 when the band journeyed to Hot Springs to present their concert.

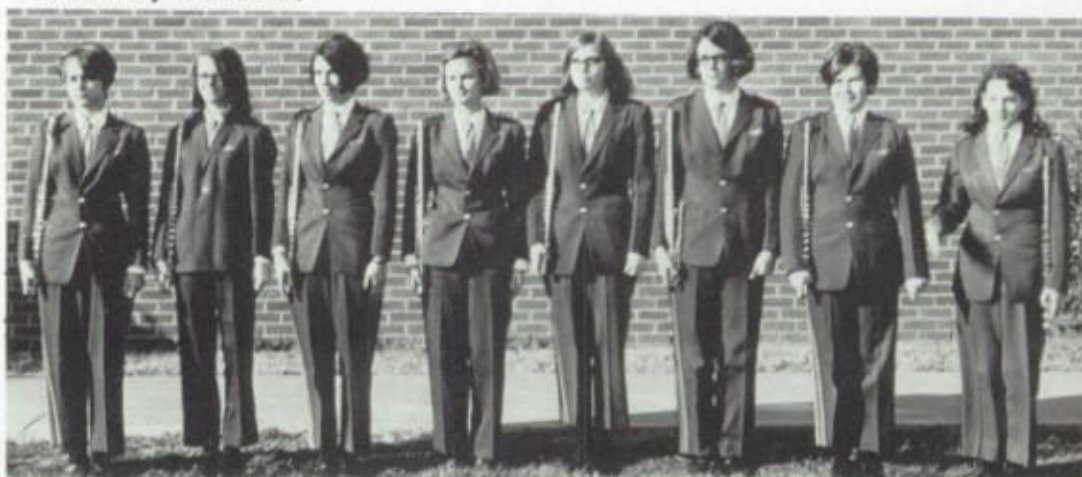

Surely the moment of greatest excitement came at the spring concert in May when the John Philip Sousa award was presented to the most outstanding senior in the band.

BAND MANAGERS: Smith, Foster, Brewer.

BASS HORNS, FRENCH HORNS, BARITONE HORNS: Melhorn, Haley, Meggers, Manning, Tilley, Coleman, Deneke, Mallott, Crouch.

FLUTES: Lively, Boyles, Rubens, Lanford, Hudson, Sanderlin, Hart, Bledsoe.

CLARINETS, OBOES, BASSOONS: ROW 1 - Kennedy, Haley, VonBoeckman, Jackson, Mills, Campbell, Calaway, Warren, Graves, Britt. ROW 2 - Morley, Schoettle, Young, Heath, Overally, Rodgers, Boyles, Hill.

TRUMPETS and CORNETS: Holmes, Neal, Atkins, Law, Johnson, Dortch, Barfield, White, Wheeler, Gourley, Robins, Eubanks, King.

Sometimes it takes two to work a geometry theorem, as proven by Anita Neal and Mike Wallace.

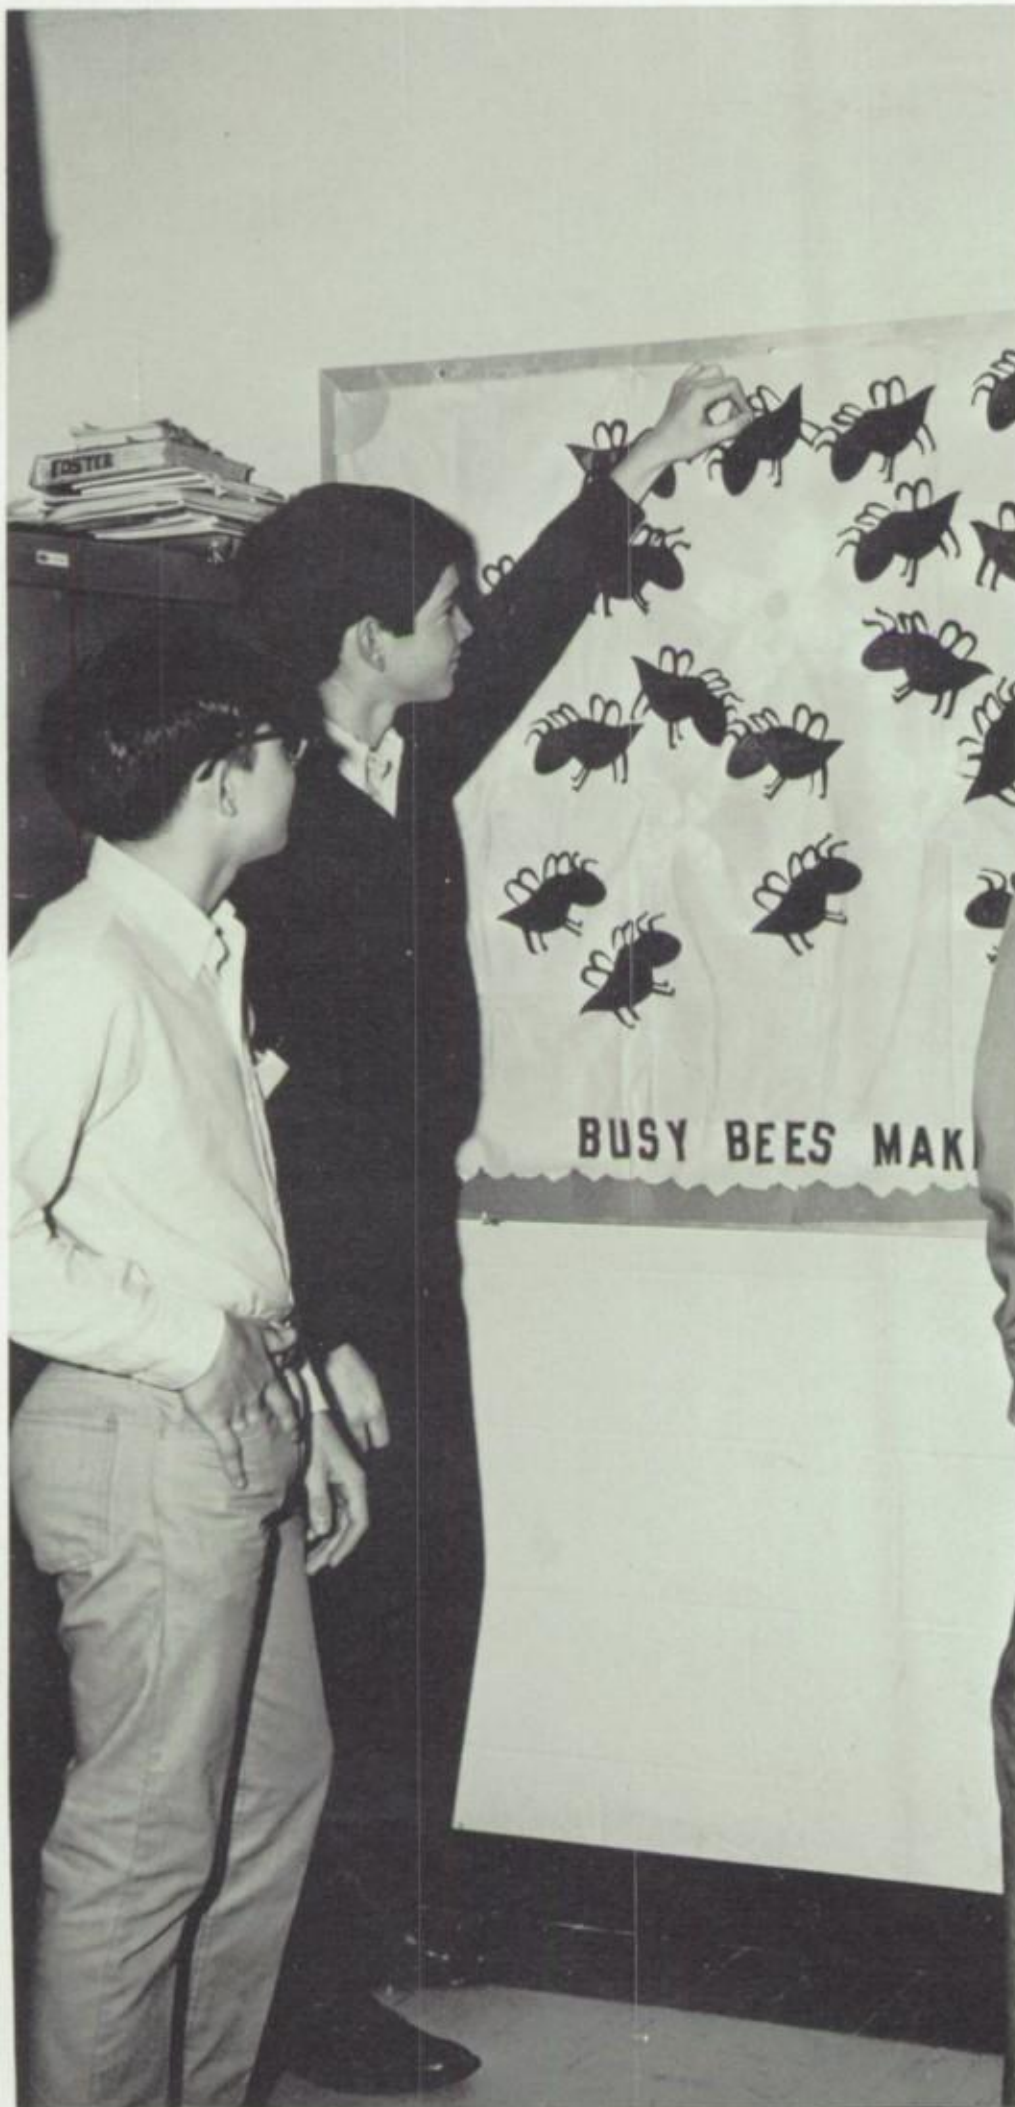

Cindy Garrison, Dennis O'Conner, Buddy Warner, and Ellen Masters inspect Miss Edmonson's Algebra II bulletin board.

Three-dimensional models, as shown by Alice Sorrells, Steve Reese, Randy Renfroe, Bobby Reichard, and Terri Holsbrook, are used to demonstrate geometric formulas and theorems.

Dennis Elliot and Ricky Pitts take time to look over Miss Conduff's Geometry bulletin board.

Math:

Math Department Stresses Exactness

Mathematics is offered to students on two levels at WMHS - one for the college bound students, the other for those who only want a practical knowledge of the subject.

Geometry students, mostly sophomores, used three-dimensional models to demonstrate formulas and theorems. General math was offered in one's sophomore or senior year. Algebra II attracted juniors while advance Mathematics appealed to mainly seniors.

Awards Day Acknowledges

Awards Day, May 9, 1969, was a date to remember for many outstanding WMHS students. Awarded for achievements made in academic study, students realized that all their efforts and hard work were not wasted.

Also honored were those who received community and school awards.

Mr. Cunningham presents Danforth Award to Sherri Grimsley.

Representatives from community organizations wait to present special awards for service and scholarship.

Annual staff members Elizabeth McElroy and Betty Vernon check Honor Day pages for yearbook in front of backdrop made by Pep Club.

Hard Work and Efforts

Commander R. B. Peters presents Diane Kirby with V.F.W. Voice of Democracy medal.

Miss Nancy Ayers presents Tommy Ramer with scholarship.

Mr. Ries directs "Citizens of the Month" before opening of Awards Day assembly.

Alan Barfield announces the purpose of Educational service awards.

Students Cited for English Excellence

Eileen Rogers, winner of junior English award.

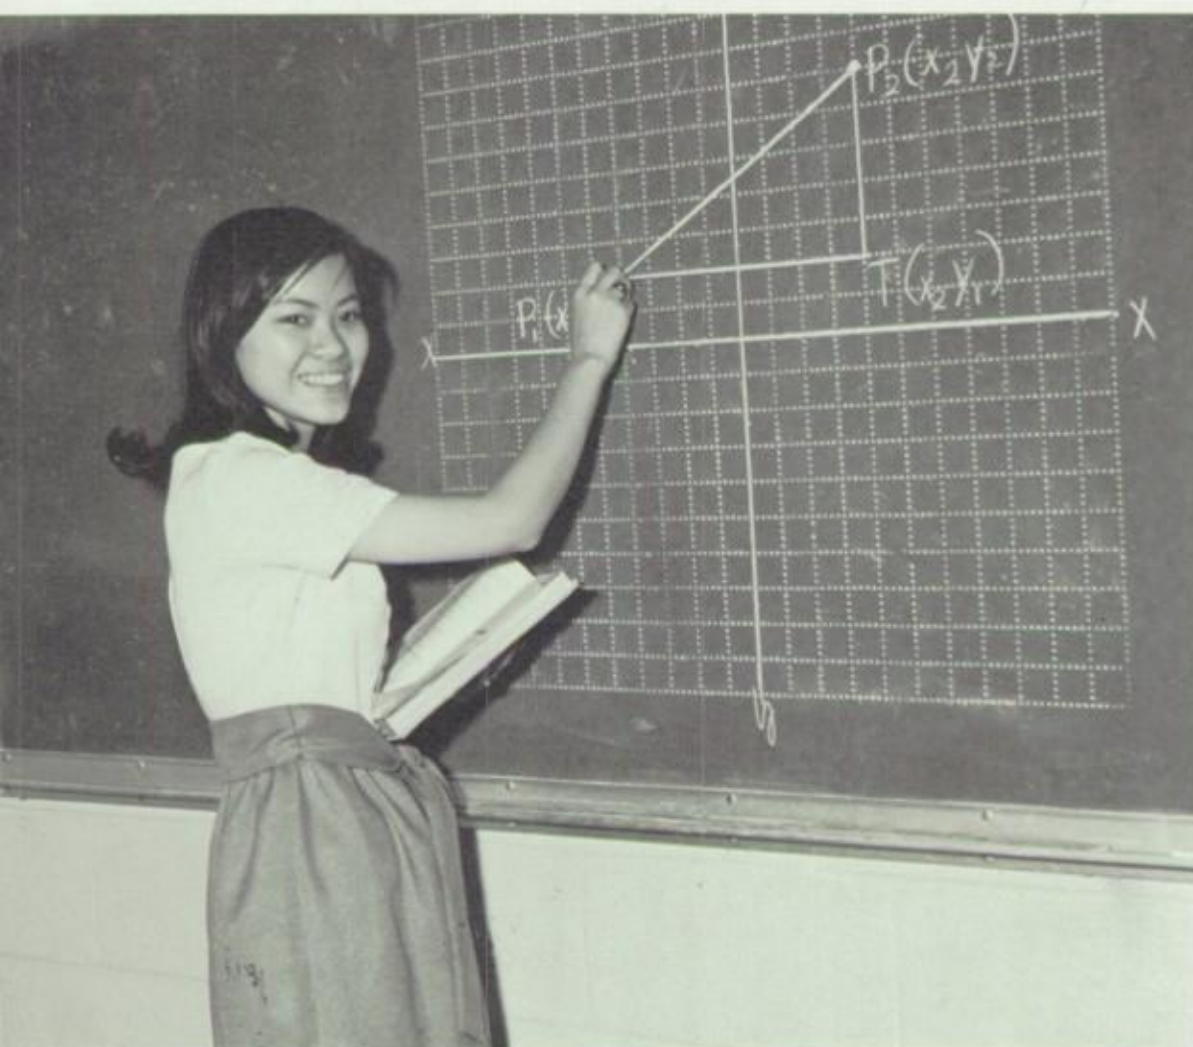

Winner of senior English award, Vicki Walker, uses library to do research on senior theme.

Mathematical Skills Pay Off in Awards

Mr. Ries discusses graphing quadratic relations with Randy Graves, winner of advanced math award.

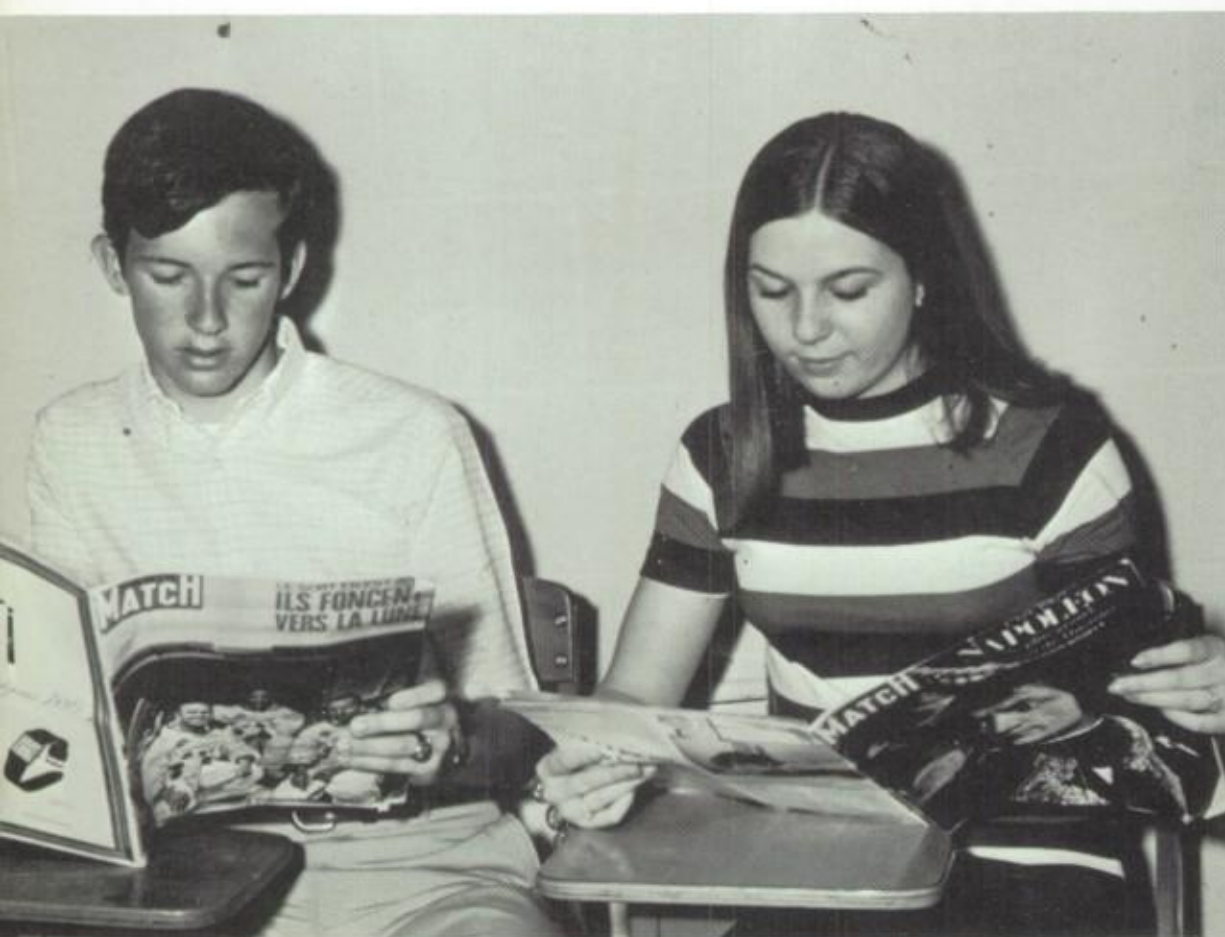

Joyce Wong, winner of algebra II award, shows class correct way to draw graphs.

Geometry is a "breeze" for Sunny Skobel, winner of geometry award.

Students Honored for Foreign Language Skills

Tim Schoettle and Beth Ward, winners of French II and I awards, read over French magazines.

Vicki Walker receives French III award on awards day.

Students Cited for Flare in Writing and Speaking

Bonnie Bowie, winner of annual staff award, prepares to go sell ads.

Winner of speech award, Vicki Walker, demonstrates how gestures prove useful in speech-making.

Typing up monthly statements is Tommy Chu, winner of annual staff award.

Scientific Knowledge Is Challenge for Students

Preparing to do an experiment is Debbie Henry, winner of chemistry award.

Jim Deneke, winner of physics award, measures sound frequencies on an oscilloscope.

Watching growth of tadpoles is Gail Northcutt, winner of biology award.

Mechanical Skills Bring Awards

Danny Gregory demonstrates his skill after winning shop award.

Mechanical drawing II award winner, Buddy Warner, gives pointers to Bill Morley, winner of mechanical drawing I award.

After receiving superior ratings on projects entered in Industrial Arts Convention, Buddy Warner, Brad Roach, and Ronnie Smith examine their award-winning project.

WMHS Students Excelled

Catching up on her world history homework is Betty Vernon, winner of the World History Award.

Winner of the V.F.W. Voice of Democracy speech contest, Diane Kirby presents her award winning speech.

Tim Schoettle, winner of the American History Award, examines presidential notebook.

Students Recognized for Scholarship and Service

Gaining recognition for scholastic achievements, Karen Wilson, Dolly Ross, Vickie Walker, Sherri Grimsley, Dena Jefferies (seated), Russell Walker, and Tommy Chu, (standing), were awarded the National High School award for excellence.

Outstanding Teenagers of America, Bonnie Bowie, Randy Graves, and Elizabeth McElroy pause for coke and conversation.

Girls' and Boys' State Stress Patriotism and Loyalty

You can always tell a Girl-Stater by her beanie and T-shirt, which they wear each day of their busy week.

Every spring our school selects delegates on the basis of outstanding character, leadership, and scholarship to attend Boys' and Girls' State.

At the camp the boys lead a simulated military life for one week in the summer.

While attending camp, delegates are instructed in election procedures, campaigning, voting, and performing duties of an elective office.

All in all, Boys' and Girls' State impressed patriotism and the importance of state politics of the minds and lives of those who attended.

Lee Atkins and Jan Lanford, two delegates to Girls' State, fold up our flag.

Gary Fraser, Mike Long, Randy Hill, Drew Alexander, and Lindy Law look forward to an action-packed week at Boys' State.

Quiz 'Em Team Advance to Finals, Lose by 25 Points

Quiz 'em team members, Dianne Houchen, Debby Henry, Tim Schoettle, and Mike Callender and sponsor Mrs. Linda Campbell accept second half championship plaque on WDIA's radio station's Quiz 'Em on the Air Series.

Tim Schoettle, Dianne Houchen, Mrs. Linda Campbell, sponsor, Debby Henry, Paul Parkinson, Scott Ferguson, and Mike Callender study practice questions before semi-final match.

Two Senior Girls Take Honors

Dianne Houchen, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Houchen, was named 1969 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for West Memphis Senior High School on the basis of an aptitude test on homemaking given to all senior girls.

Dianne's achievement made her eligible for state and national scholarships.

General Mills sponsors annually the "Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow."

Dianne Houchen looks over books on good homemaking techniques.

Elizabeth McElroy calls her parents after being named D. A. R. "Good Citizen."

On November 4, Elizabeth McElroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert F. McElroy, was named as recipient of the D. A. R. "Good Citizen" award. This award is considered one of the highest honors a senior girl can win.

A committee of faculty members chose Elizabeth on the basis of leadership, service, character, and patriotism.

The Robert Crittenden Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution gives this honor annually, and the local winner is eligible for the state award.

Excitement arose on the morning of February 10 with the beginning of Spirit Week and the announcement of the three candidates for basketball sweetheart. Chosen by the basketball team were Belinda Boyles, senior, Bonnie Patridge, junior, and Sunny Skobel, sophomore.

In a colorful take-off of the popular "Rowan and Martin Laugh-In" the theme of Spirit Week was presented.

The Student Council and Pep Club sponsored week lasted from February 10-14 with each day designated as a special day in itself.

Spirited pep rallies, amusing skits, colorful and special days and nights, prepared the student body for anxiously awaited climax - the crowning of the sweetheart.

The pep club was arranged in a heart shaped and featured the three candidates for sweetheart in the center. When the first half of the ballgame was over, the votes of the spectators had been counted and tenseness was at its peak.

As the heart unfolded each candidate descended to meet the president of her respective class. Maid Belinda Boyles and Maid Bonnie Patridges were introduced and Sunny Skobel was crowned the 1969 Basketball sweetheart.

Our first year in AAA competition - a young and inexperienced team - the glory of a 60-20 win against Marianna in our first game - props knocked out from under us in our next game with Stuttgart - injuries that probably cost us our defeat in the homecoming game with Newport - our peak reached in the game with Jacksonville - our lowest ebb in our defeat by McClellan, costing us a chance to play for the championship - the glory of a fine football game against Forrest City - the Cottonbale Trophy back at our school - an up and down season (like a bouncing ball, according to our coach) - ending up with a creditable 5-3-2 record.

WEST MEMPHIS VS MARIANNA

Leaving tradition and the preseason chart in the locker room, the Blue Devils unveiled a devastating ground attack, which ran over, around, through the Marianna Porcupines on the way to a surprising 60-20 victory in the season's opener for both teams. Our first touchdown of the year was slammed into the end zone by Terry McFarland and West Memphis was off and running. McFarland accounted for 130 of West Memphis' rushing total of 416 yards from scrimmage. He carried 10 times, not including kick-off returns. Dennis Dearen had two assignments and netted 98 yards.

WEST MEMPHIS VS STUTTGART

A twenty five yard field goal two and a half minutes deep in fourth quarter earned the Stuttgart Ricebirds a 10-7 victory over the Blue Devils. West Memphis broke the scoring ice in the hard-fought defensive battle when Dennis Dearen rammed over from a yard out in the first quarter. Johnny McCaa set off the scoring drive with a shifty 26 yard return of a Ricebird punt, finally being pushed out of bounds at the Ricebird 14. Terry McFarland was the game's leading ground gainer with a total of 79 yards in 15 carries to lead the Blue Devils offense in their first defeat of the season.

As the West Memphis defense continued to improve, senior tailback Dennis Dearen showed signs of living up to his pre-season plaudits, as he scored two touchdowns to lead the Blue Devils past the Blytheville Chickasaws in a 20-7 victory. Dearen accounted for 157 yards of total offense, the season high for a Devil.

Dearen opened the scoring with 4:12 left to play in the first quarter. The Devils scored again on an 80-yard drive after the defense slugged it out between the 30-yard lines for two exchanges. Scoring for the night ended by the Devils on their first possession in the third quarter. A sustained 59-yard drive was climaxed by Dearen as he tore through the Blytheville line.

WEST MEMPHIS VS NEWPORT

Going into the game on homecoming night with much eagerness, the Blue Devils were overcome by the speedy Newport Greyhounds as they added a dash of bulldog tenacity to their attack and spoiled the homecoming celebration with a 14-6 victory.

Terry McFarland and Gary Westmoreland combined to pick up a first down on the visitors' four yard line. Three plays later and with 10:16 remaining in the period, McFarland plunged over from the one to put six points on the board. Brad Roach's kick for the point was wide and the Devils had ended their scoring for the evening.

WEST MEMPHIS VS HELENA

The potentially devastating West Memphis Blue Devils offense exploded for three second quarter touchdowns and then went on to romp past the hapless Helena Central Indians 14-6 in a AAA-East Conference game.

Terry McFarland added his fourth touchdown of the night with 1:41 left in the third quarter. Brad Roach was wide again, having toed two, and the Blue Devils led by a 26-0 score. Reserve Fullback Jimmy Moore ended the Devil scoring on the fourth play from scrimmage after the Helena kick, going 31 yards up the middle with 54 seconds left. Senior Paul Holmes had grabbed 20 yards in the series to set the stage for Moore. Tommy Woodell kicked the point-after and it was all over at 46-6, except for three last gasp passes by the Indians, which fell incomplete.

WEST MEMPHIS VS WYNNE

After being stopped six times with less than thirty yards to go for a score, the West Memphis Blue Devils finally punched across a touchdown with 1:33 left in the game to salvage a 7-7 tie with the scrappy Wynne Yellowjackets. The Devils' grind-it-out infantry attack had dominated the game from the opening kickoff, but each time the Yellowjackets got their backs to the wall, they swarmed all over the Devils and stopped the drive.

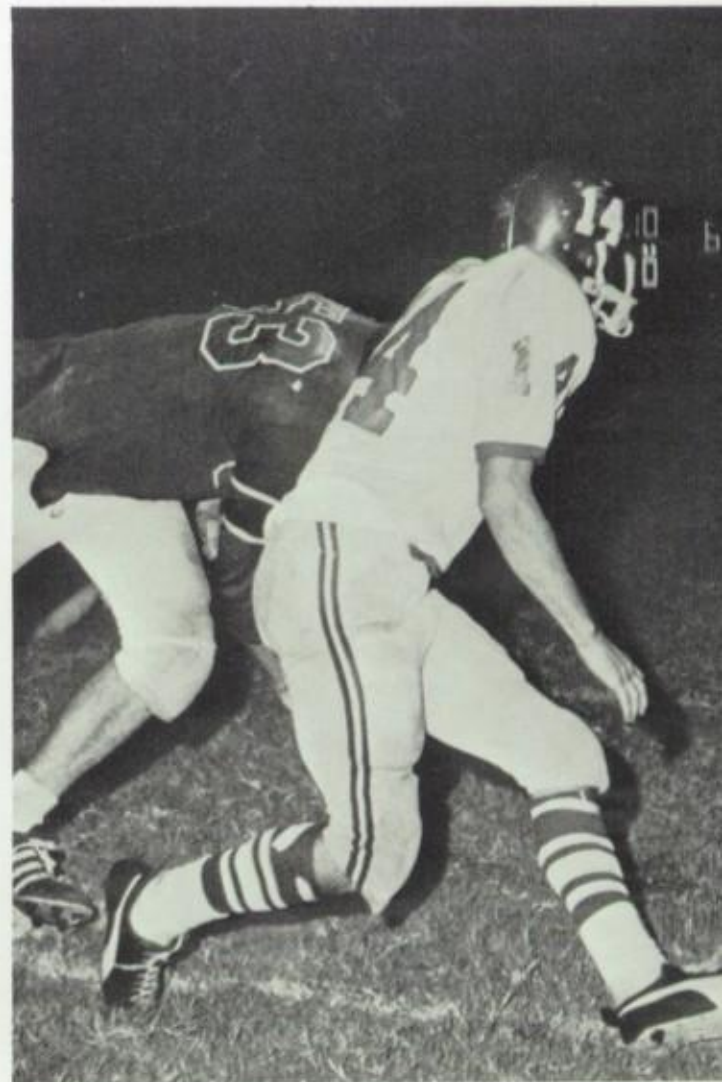

West Memphis rushed for a total of 293 yards as they rolled up 17 first downs but lost the ball twice in the first period, fumbled it away three other times, and had their only pass of the night intercepted.

WEST MEMPHIS VS JACKSONVILLE

Amid shouts of "We're Number One," the West Memphis Blue Devils took over undisputed first place in the AAA-East Conference with an impressive 34-6 victory over the Jacksonville Red Devils. Dennis Dearen put the first point on the board, Brad Roach kicked the Extra point, and the Blue Devils took the lead with 4:37 left in the first quarter. Dearen capped a 62-yard drive with a two-yard plunge to pay dirt on the Blue Devils' first possession after the half time. Roach was good again for a 16-0 lead. Johnny McCaa broke four tackles as he slammed up the middle for the score on the next play, giving West Memphis a 22-0 margin after Woodell's conversion attempt was blocked. Grave's eighteen yard scamper came at the end of an 88-yard drive with 6:33 left to play. West Memphis took an on-side kick at the Jacksonville 46 and McFarland pushed to the 34 in two carries. McCaa bulled his way to the Red Devil 28 and Graves dropped the ball in Woodell's arms as he raced past the defense for the final score.

WEST MEMPHIS VS McCLELLAN

Our West Memphis Blue Devils ventured into a lions' den at McClellan High School and were pretty well chewed up with a smother of 47-12 before they could find their way out. Randy Graves took to the air in the second half and that was what it took to finally get West Memphis on the scoreboard. Randy hit Terry McFarland with 8:09 left in the game. In all, the Devils threw 12 times, completing five for 108 yards. They rushed for 134 yards for an offensive total of 242 yards. This game was a heart-breaker, for it knocked the Devils from their number one position and kept them from a final play-off for the AAA championship.

Dearen and the Devils run away from the Forrest City Mustangs for a satisfying final win.

WEST MEMPHIS VS FORREST CITY

The West Memphis Blue Devils picked up 534 yards, a safety, and five touchdowns from the compressed Forrest City Mustangs and hauled the Cotton Bale Trophy away from the gin, wrapped up in a tidy 37-0 win. Dennis Dearen scored the first Devil touchdown midway through the opening period on a 24 yard power sweep and added his second 50 seconds before the intermission to give West Memphis a 30-0 lead after Brad Roach toed his first of five conversions. Henry Brown closed the scoring for West Memphis with 2:42 left in the third period with a 62 yard burst through the line, outrunning two defenders the last thirty yards.

Basketball season opened with great anticipation toward competing in the AAA - East conference for the first time.

Opening with a 67-49 victory over Wynne, the boys gained confidence in their ability, but they felt that they had not yet proven themselves as a strong team. A feeling of accomplishment came when they opened conference play by defeating Blytheville, for this was the first time that a West Memphis team had defeated them in basketball competition.

The team stopped play for the Christmas holidays by defeating Jonesboro 51 to 46, thus gaining first place in the conference. They picked up play after the holidays by defeating Marianna. Three conference games followed at this point, and West Memphis fell from first to third place.

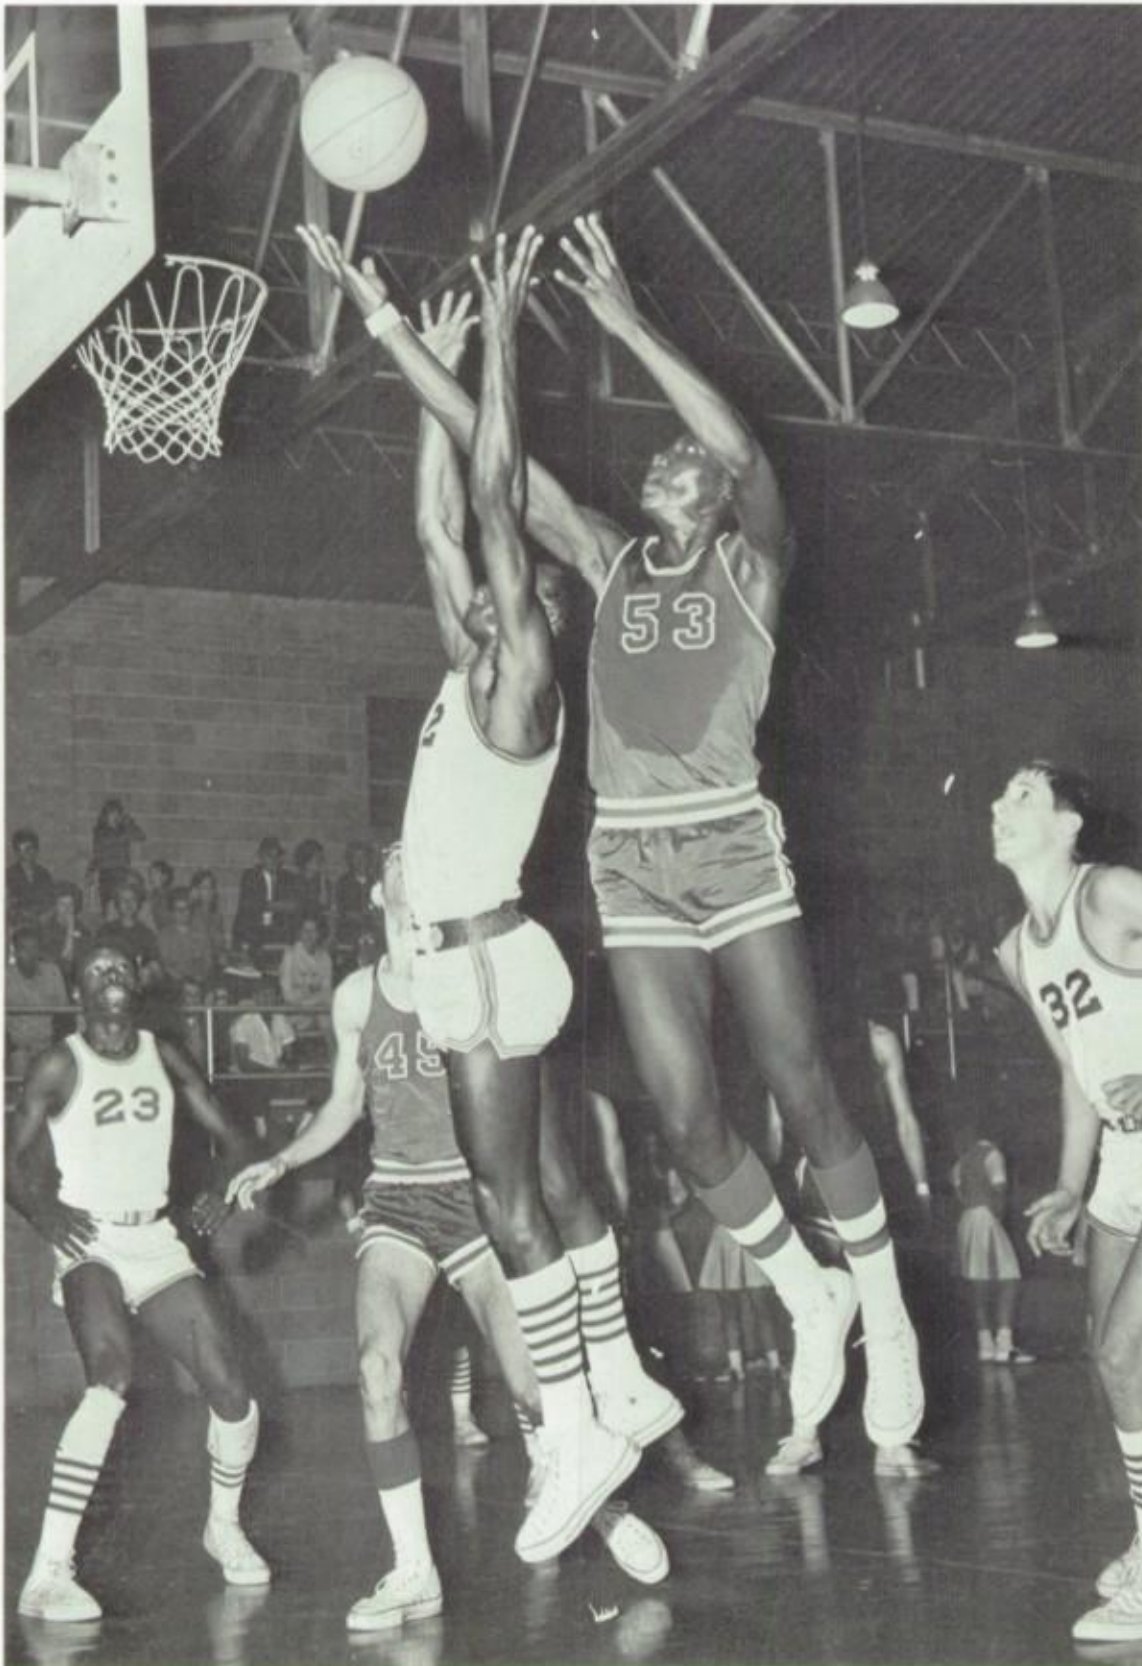

Our boys began to come back around February and probably played their best game on the night they won over M.U.S. before the largest home crowd of the year.

West Memphis finished fourth in the conference with a record of 5-5. Their overall record was 12-9.

In March the team played North Little Rock in the state tournaments. The defeat North Little Rock gave them ended West Memphis' season at 12-10.

Novelty routine to the Smothers Brothers' theme is shown by Bonnie Patridge.

We have heard a lot said about school spirit over the past few years, most of it critical. However, anyone who has attended Devil football contests, Big Blue basketball games, or track competition knows what West Memphis High School's spirit was really like. The moving upswing of enthusiasm for West Memphis athletics was largely due to our cheerleaders. Eight chosen girls, bubbling and vigorous, followed our football and basketball teams through inclement weather and long tiring schedules, lending support and encouragement to WMHS athletics and putting pep into our pep rallies and spirit into our athletic contests.

Last June the newly selected squad attended a cheerleading workshop where ideas were exchanged with cheerleaders from all over Arkansas and other states. They worked many hours to modernize their method of cheering by practicing routines and new yells.

Outstanding ability was a necessary quality for each of the girls selected for the seven-member squad. They were chosen through tryouts on the basis of skill, personality, enthusiasm, stamina, and sportsmanship.

Blue Blazer activities never ceased during the 1968-69 sports year.

They began even before school started with a season ticket sale.

During football season the Pep Club had signs to make, pep rallies to plan, the gym and the field to decorate, and a hoop to paint. Before each game a runway for the team was formed.

Just as "football-itis" was disappearing a new illness hit - Basketball season. The Pep Club practiced for weeks on the "Alma Mater" so that it would sound perfect at the games. Besides singing, the group had more signs to make, more decorating to do, and a new way to learn "We're West Memphis!"

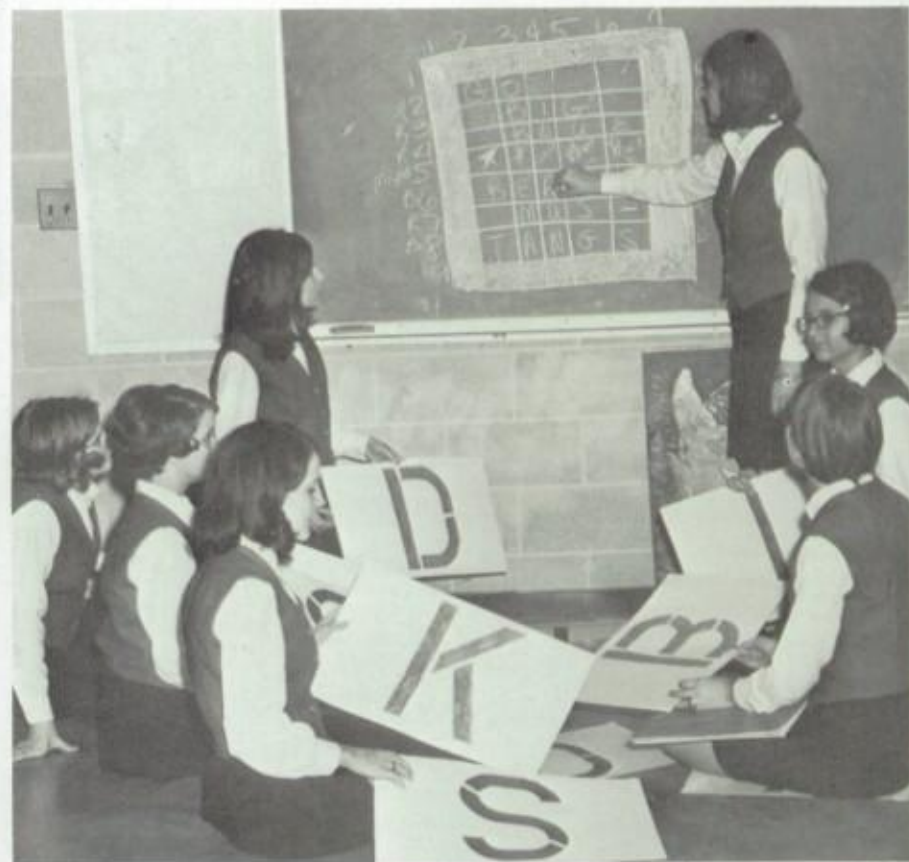

Football and basketball were not the only activities. The All-Sports Banquet in April had to be planned and the girls had to serve. Also there was the basketball tournament in Little Rock, which they attended as a group.

The field committee, which included S. Cooper, E. Rogers, P. Kitchens, P. King, D. Ross, publicity chairman, N. Cole, M. Harlow, D. McCullough, and P. Duncan, captain, decorate goal posts before football game.

Marching Band Adds Color, Sparkle

BLUE DEVIL MARCHING BAND

Five out-of-town football games, a homecoming parade, the Helena Region II Marching contest, and the Christmas Parade were a few of the activities of the West Memphis Blue Devil Marching Band. Under the direction of Mr. Frank Washburn, this year's Devil band did a superb job, obtaining a 1st place Marching trophy as the final reward.

Extraordinary is not quite the word to describe the Band's dance routine to "Once In Love With Amy" during the Jacksonville - W. M. half-time show.

Amid waving flags and smiles the band generated spirit on the football field as well as throughout the stadium with songs like "Dixie" and our own "Fight Song," bringing much pleasure to spectators, young and old, with their great performances.

Majorettes Donna Coleman, Jean Seaton, Shirley Tilley, Anita Neal, Diane Rumble, and Jan Lanford add enthusiasm and sparkle to band half time shows.

Feature Twirler, Kay Campbell, practices routine for pep rally.

Peggy Holmes, drum majorette, conducts band.

Band works diligently through long hot session for perfection in half-time show.

Student Council Sponsors WMHS

Not all of a student's education comes from classwork or homework; he learns invaluable lessons in how to get along with others through extra-curricular activities. Of all the student organizations at West Memphis Senior High School, the Student Council probably offers the greatest opportunity for group participation.

First on the agenda in the fall was sophomore orientation, which introduced the new students to the school. Since WMHS had stepped up to triple A classification, a new student handbook and constitution had to be written, and this job was the duty of the Student Council.

Spirit Week, sponsored by the group, was a first at WMHS. Activities this special week promoted sportsmanship and enthusiasm towards our basketball team.

Funds for stage lights, handbooks, garbage cans, new flags and various other items were supplied from profits from the homecoming dance featuring the "Rapsallions."

District convention was held in Marianna and state convention at Van Buren. During both, Student Council was well represented by both old and new officers.

With the profits earned from the book sale and a school assembly Beta members and their sponsors, Mrs. Odalene Coley and Miss Sandra Edmonson, attended the Arkansas State Beta Convention in late January at Little Rock. March proved to be another busy month for the Betas as they aided the Red Cross by a door to door march for contributions. The year's activity ended for the Beta Club in April and May with the election and initiation of its new officers.

A national honorary organization, the Beta Club promotes honesty, integrity, and scholarship among the student body.

Eligibility for membership requires a student to hold a "B" academic average and an "A" citizenship average with a maximum of one B. Students are invited to join only at the beginning of school and at semester.

By setting themselves as examples, Beta Club members encouraged all students at WMHS to strive for higher grades and better citizenship.

J. Deneke, R. Smith, and R. Graves participated in the Key Club Campus-Cleanup project.

When students at WMHS saw members of the Key Club picking up paper, they were encouraged to lend their support in having a clean school campus.

A national organization, the Key Club is sponsored by Mr. Ries. The purpose of the club is to promote good citizenship, school spirit, and to serve effectively in the school and community.

Members of the club attended the basketball games and made sure there were no food and drinks taken into the gym. During track season, the club assisted both the participants and the spectators at track meets.

Wildlife Federation Active in School Projects

OFFICERS: Phil Turner - V. P., Marilyn Whitfield - Sec. -Treas., Ronnie Marconi - Pres., Dickey, Lanford, Foster, Eables, Gill, Eisler, Self, McCaa, McCullough, Harlow, Earney, Smithee, McElroy, Britt, Skobel, Cooper, Smith, Ham, Burk, Morris, Campbell, Sullivan, Holmes, Cook, Warner, Scruggs, Schoettle, Pospisil, Dial, Shassere, Smith, Wilhite, Northcutt, Coleman, Wallace, Seaton, Holloway, Waddell, Woodell, Taylor, Singleton, Davis, O'Connor, Boyles, Buck, Duncan, Austin.

Not only did the Wildlife Federation promote conservation but also they eagerly participated in all school and civic projects.

Their float in the homecoming parade, which depicted a forest scene complete with members dressed as wild animals, drew many laughs from the spectators. A classic example of the energetic membership was their project to further the Christmas spirit.

Civic projects consisted of baskets to needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas. The Wildlife Federation also furnished the January assembly program, which was an illustrated lecture on falcons, including the bald eagle, hawks, and owls.

For their money-making project they sold reprints of famous paintings.

Portraying wild animals, Suzanne Shassere, Elizabeth McElroy, and Dale Ham practice for their skit on the Wildlife float.

Wildlife members, Elizabeth McElroy, Marilyn Whitfield, and Phil Turner work on "Season's Greetings" sign.

Hunting, fishing, and general outdoor activities were the chief interests of the Sportsmen's Club. The members enjoyed films on outdoor sports and discussed them with enthusiasm and interest.

Members also sponsored Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for a family chosen by the boys in the club with the help of Mrs. Barbara Thomas, sponsor.

FTA 'ers Learn by Doing

Work was the by-word for this year's Future Teachers of America. They proved their willingness by diligently grading papers, mimeographing tests, and, in short, being all round "Girl Fridays" to the teachers of West Memphis High School.

Sponsored by Mrs. Washburn and Mrs. Bass, this club was also a big participant in promoting school spirit. At the Forrest City bonfire, FTA signs were scattered throughout the Devil fans, and a "Powder-Puff" football game depicted a huge victory over the Mustangs.

Their first money-making project went over with great success, for the bright red and blue Devil banners not only added money to the treasury but proved the spirit of the club.

Early in the year FTA members also hosted the teachers at a coffee given in home economics living room.

Climax of activities came during Teacher Appreciation Week when each day members brought small gifts, taught classes, and in other ways served as teachers' aids.

Patty Pattison and Karen Bomar await teachers at coffee given in home economics living room.

Mrs. Coley and Mrs. Beason enjoy food served by Debbie Richard at FTA coffee.

Selling Pom-Poms proves quite an experience for FHA members, Sarah Miller, Phyllis Mansel, and Brenda Hatton.

"Toward New Horizons" is the motto of the Future Homemakers of America. This motto is carried out in the different phases of the homemaking field by various projects throughout the year. This year's money-making project was selling of bright red and blue Pom-Poms. The entire student body, and especially the Blue Blazers, were grateful for the Pom-Poms.

Early in second semester the girls learned Parliamentary procedure. Mrs. Bagwell, FHA sponsor, considered it a good chance to improve the workings of the club.

This year's FHA can only be described as active, energetic, and full of school spirit.

J.C.L. Year Filled With Activities

Participation in the homecoming parade was the first of the numerous undertakings of the Junior Classical League. Central theme of the float was a hoped for victory over the Newport greyhounds. Depicting the victory, Roman soldiers speared a large paper mache greyhound. Traditional entries in the parade were the litter and the chariot. Petite JoAnna Johnson rode in the litter, carried by eight Roman Slaves. Gary Pospisil, in the attire of a Roman Charioteer, guided the chariot, which was pulled by Roman slave girls.

In April members of the club, accompanied by Mrs. Sims, their sponsor, attended the State J.C.L. Convention in Conway. Bruce Taylor, National J.C.L. President from Denver, Colorado, was the honored guest.

Highlighting the year's activities was the beautiful Roman banquet held in the school cafeteria. Guests, wearing togas or pallas, reclined on couches and enjoyed a typical Roman meal.

Entre Nous Brings Mardi Gras to West Memphis High

Chris Fair, Karen Wilson, Cathy Cochran, Miss Redditt, Joanne Danzy hold Entres Nous banner at the Forrest City bonfire.

The spirit of Entre Nous was evident throughout the year as each month was filled with activities.

October brought fall in a brilliant blaze of color and enthusiasm, as well as the annual Forrest City bonfire, in which the French Club participated whole-heartedly by making booster signs.

Their money-making project was the selling of candy right after the Christmas holidays.

In many of their club meetings films were shown about France. Of course, these were in French.

Mardi Gras time in New Orleans brought Mardi Gras to West Memphis High when Entre Nous had the biggest and most elaborate banquet in the club's history. Our ordinary school cafeteria was transformed into a Mardi Gras setting, and as the costumed students entered, one could feel the undercurrent of excitement that prevailed. A French cuisine was served which began with escargots and ended with flaming crepes suzettes.

Ending the year was a play, a sequel to the play performed at the banquet.

Speech Club Presents Original Skits

Promoting an interest in Speech and Drama was the primary purpose of the Speech Club. The members accomplished their goals by attending plays and presenting original productions.

Among their various activities were Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets and placing food in the teachers' lounge. Miss Atkins attended a meeting as guest speaker and presented a reading "Andre Del Sarto" by Browning. At the December meeting the club put on a Christmas skit.

One of the year's most pleasant activities was a trip to the Holiday Inn Dinner Theatre to see how the "professionals" do it.

Linda Rodman, Jim Moore, and Barry Plough show their dramatic talent during initiation of new members.

Car Club Promotes Traffic Safety

Gary Raburn shows what a good Car Club member represents by keeping his car repaired for good traffic safety.

Car Club members were interested in the promotion of traffic safety among teenagers. Their interests also covered all types and models of cars from the "A" Models to modern Sting-rays. Boys weren't the only ones interested in cars; about half of the club consisted of girls.

Programs consisted of discussions on various phases of the automotive field, and the members gained new knowledge to be put into practice on our streets and highways.

Sponsored by Coach Wayne Sims, this club endeavored to achieve a more conscientious attitude toward traffic safety and driving.

Sponsoring Jackie Mask and Billy Merchant at football and basketball games as the Blue Devil mascot was the principle project of the Hi-Y. The two boys wore "Devil" outfits of red and blue.

Advised by Mr. Chester Wilson, the organization was a branch of the YMCA. The purpose of the club was to promote good citizenship and to encourage high standards of Christian character.

Hi-Y members display small portion of their school spirit.

Tri-Hi-Y Sets Example for Christian Leadership

Melodie McCutchen and Mary Simpson sample "Polywogs," which were sold by Tri-Hi-Y.

Members of Tri-Hi-Y began their year on a humid day in September where girls crowded into Mrs. Fran Sullivan's room and began making plans for an exciting year. Each girl was confident that she could display the Christian standards and enthusiasm characteristic of this club.

Their service to others was properly displayed when the girls visited the West Memphis Nursing Home and presented fruit baskets to the senior citizens who lived there.

November brought a crisp, windy day for the Tri-Hi-Y's first money making project, a rummage sale.

The year progressed with many more exciting activities such as the St. Jude's drive at Christmas and a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Later a second money making project, a candy sale, added to the activities of the club.

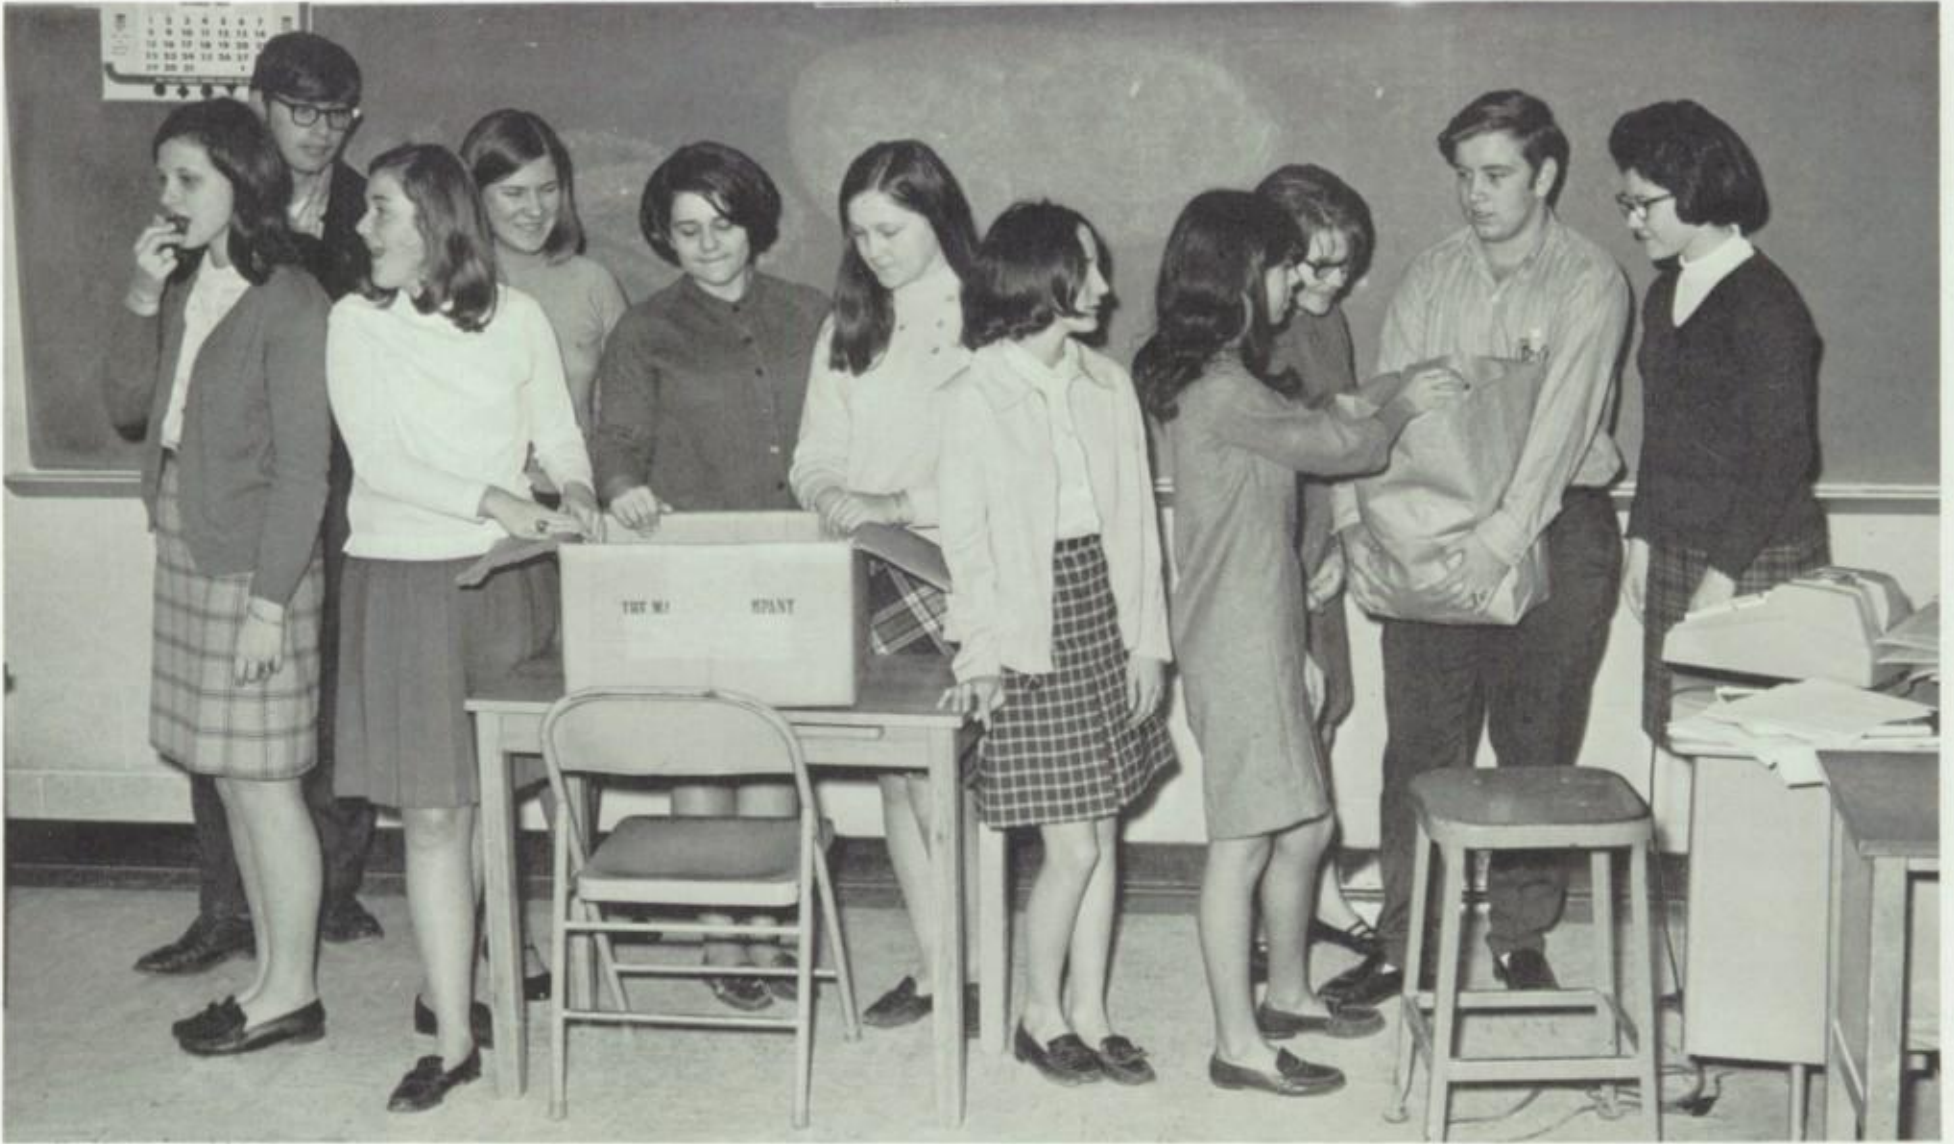

A spring banquet was held in the school cafeteria in April, at which time the new officers were initiated in a candle light ceremony.

FBLA MEMBERS, 1st ROW: C. Naylor, R. McLeroy, B. Ledbetter, B. Baker, P. Wiedeman, E. Masters, W. Crawford, S. Kirkland, R. Walton, C. Morris, D. Friend.

Future Business Leaders of America learned more about business this year than ever before.

Their club meetings were filled with interesting programs, speakers, and field trips.

Among their many speakers were Mr. Robert Boutwell of the Bank of West Memphis, Mr. Lanny Gorman of Southwestern Bell, and Mrs. Jean Yates of IBM in Memphis. These speakers from the business world added a touch of realism and showed the members what to expect in business careers.

A field trip was made on April 10 to the Holiday Inn of West Memphis for a look at their computer system.

One of their civic projects was packing fruit for the West Memphis Nursing Home at Christmas.

FBLA learned business responsibility, leadership, and capability.

Presidents' Council played an important role in school again this year. Composed of all club presidents and sponsored by Mrs. Martha Bagwell, this club worked to coordinate all the school clubs.

Many of the small tasks that go unheeded were accomplished by this organization. The Forrest City bonfire before our last football game was sponsored by the council. The council also collected scrapbooks and yearbooks from each club which were displayed in order that the students and faculty might become familiar with each club's activities.

Undoubtedly, the biggest project of Presidents' Council was WMHS Beautification Week. Gaily decorated trash bags and boxes were placed in each room. Also, each club was responsible for a bulletin board to publicize the week, and a section of the building to keep clean.

This club accomplished a big goal, that of uniting the clubs and working with and for the school.

Scribblers Use After-School Hours to Improve Writing Skills

Scribblers of West Memphis High today may well be the authors, poets, and journalists of the future, for these were the ones that showed the most interest in developing their writing ability.

Their meetings were held at the homes of various members of the club, and one memorable one was the meeting held in Overton Park in Memphis.

The Scribblers read and discussed their manuscripts, the best of which were later compiled into Satan's Scripts and sold on campus.

During Campus Beautification Week Scribblers were assigned the cafeteria, and among their many plans for cafeteria clean-up were installing flower-decorated trash cans in strategic places by outside doors and having soothing music played over the intercom during lunch. Also, Scribblers displayed many posters in the cafeteria and aided in the general spirit of the week.

All in all, the '69-'70 Scribblers worked hard to establish themselves as an important part of W.M.H.S.

History Club Sponsors Presidential Election

It was only natural that election year would be especially interesting to members of the History Club. They sponsored a Mock Presidential election with candidates chosen from American history classes. The entire student body voted in the election and the club members counted the votes.

Guest speakers added interest to the monthly meetings. The most enjoyable was a speaker from city council who spoke on the history of West Memphis.

Service Groups Give Aid

Bill White and Gary Robins open school day each morning with reveille.

Anita Coley and Eileen Rogers have unenviable job of opening bookstore each morning by 8:00.

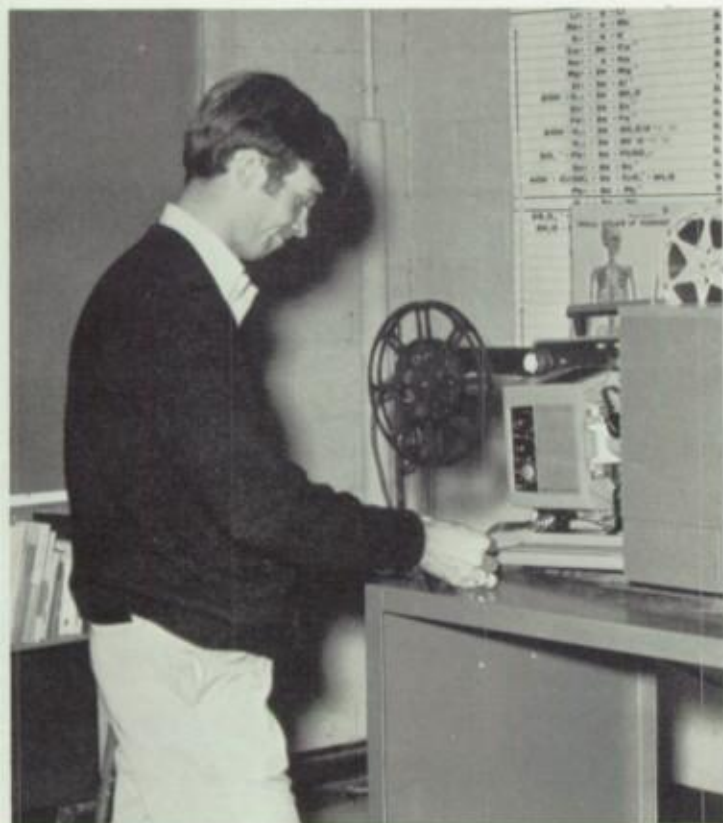

Our flay boys, Gary Westmoreland and Gerald Haskett, make sure the flag waves proudly each morning.

Office workers, Marguaret Woods, JoAnn Arnold, Diane Kirby, Cindy Naylor, Emory Reeder, Debbie Miller, Ellen Masters, Nancy Cole, Melva Smithee, and Donna Friend devote an hour each day to running errands, collecting absentee slips, and giving tardy students class-admittance slips.

Debbie McCullough, Joyce Wong, Dathene Knuckles, Cathy Cochran, Rosemary Bagley, and Dolly Ross help Miss Nancy Ayers in Guidance office.

Paul Parkinson, Jim Deneke, Ronnie Smith, and Mike Long, fire marshalls, check fire extinguisher.

Setting examples for service, co-operativeness, and dependability these eight groups of students devoted their time and efforts to helping our school run more smoothly.

Awakening the student body each morning, the buglers, started the day off with a blast of reveille.

To make sure our United States and Arkansas flags flew proudly in front of our school, Gary Westmoreland and Gerald Haskett raised the flags to show that school was in session.

Students depended on the bookstore workers to open the bookstore promptly at 8:00. This is the least noteworthy and enviable of positions but Anita Coley and Eileen Rogers fulfilled this service with great diligence.

Office and guidance workers performed tasks ranging from picking up absentee slips to typing reports for Miss Ayers. Library workers checked in books, collected fines, and returned books to their shelves.

Showing films in classrooms was the service of Mike Coleman.

Fire marshalls insured the safety of our school.

Debbie Chenowith, Susan Young, Dianne Hood, Nat Stanley, Kathy Williams, Melodie McCutchen, and Scott Robbins give up their study hall to work in library.

Cotton Boll Staff Provides Lasting

Quality is an elusive factor. In a yearbook it is a very special blend of copy, photographs, and tasteful design displayed on its pages. Quality moves the reader to recall events and re-experience school life.

A yearbook with quality records in pictures and in words school memories which will be just as meaningful in the years to come as they are today.

There is no question that the best pictures originate from something more than the mere mechanics of photography. Sometimes it is luck. More often it is the ability of the annual staff to recognize a promising picture situation and present it in the yearbook.

As for the "words," copy has to be corrected and rewritten many times to achieve accuracy, clarity, and style.

It took a little imagination, considerable planning, and a lot of hard work to complete this year's edition of the "Cottonboll," for the staff was determined that the 1969 edition would be a yearbook of quality.

To achieve this goal, the staff added a few firsts - duotone in a color to match the cover, improved layout, sharper pictures, a faculty index, and a student directory.

A small staff worked many long hours to edit a book of which they, as well as their fellow students, could be proud.

CLASSES

Senior Vicki Eaves takes last walk through school doors.

WMHS's 1969 senior class spent their last year of high school actively participating in the many school activities of the year. Senior girls and boys served their school faithfully through the many service clubs and organizations at West Memphis High. The members of the class of '69 discovered many rewards in being upperclassmen during an exciting year of games, pep assemblies, and honors. There were highlights such as senior pins, and homecoming dance, and triumphs such as the completion of senior themes, and then finally the Junior-Senior prom, Honors Day, Baccalaureate, and Commencement. The senior class ended the last year of high school with a profitable year behind them and the future, which they had been planning for throughout their years at WMHS, waiting ahead of them.

Juniors Gain Honors, Rank

For the '68-'69 juniors, the year proved to be an exciting and rewarding one. Certainly some of them will never forget the thrill of being "elected" President of the United States in American history, or memorizing stray lines of "Annabel Lee" and "Thanatopsis." Surely all of them will remember the day of reckoning when they took the standardized tests, and other days when it seemed the whole school was about to go up in smoke from bombs manufactured in chemistry class.

During the long winter months the juniors worked hard in the concession stand at basketball games, each contemplating the day of reward - the day of their first prom. This money-making project was just part of the behind-the-scenes work done by the juniors before the prom became a long-awaited reality. However, the many hours spent in planning, mailing invitations, and decoration were well worth all the effort, for on prom night the Civic Center was a spot of beauty and a source of pride for all the juniors who had worked so hard. The Junior-Senior Prom of '69 was added to the long list of happy memories of life at WMHS.

However, the year's activities were far from over for the juniors. From this class were elected the new student body leaders, the student council officers.

Graduation, the time when each junior gets just a little nostalgic because he will be next, brought more memories to two juniors chosen by the junior sponsors to be marshalls and lead the graduation march at both baccalaureate and commencement exercises.

And finally, the long-awaited moment came to the '68-'69 juniors - the day when they could slip on their new senior rings and know that at last they really were the Class of '70.

President Paul Parkinson urges all juniors to attend "Class Night" game during Spirit Week.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS: President, Paul Parkinson; Vice-President, Keith McClung; Reporter, Steve Taylor; Secretary-Treasurer, Dale Ham.

Largest Sophomore Class

In September, the doors of West Memphis High School opened wide to admit the largest sophomore class ever. As the newness of being sophomores wore off, the first year students were determined to set new and exciting goals.

Constituting the majority of students on campus, the sophomores joined together and each played an individual role in a great body. They moved slowly and cautiously at first, one step at a time in any direction, for they were unfamiliar with their new surroundings and it took time to become accustomed to the routine of high school life. The young students gradually accepted responsibilities and became active in honorary organizations, student government, and various other activities.

As the sophomores gained confidence, they stood proud and eager as they set long-range goals and strove to achieve them.
